THE CREEPING BELOW #1

BOOM! Studios

There are gods older than the devil... but nothing can prepare you for The Creeping Below, a violent, electrifying descent into bloody, black metal-infused revenge! While attending a music festival in Oslo, an American metalhead named Tara is assaulted by a charismatically vile local band, and sets forth on a saga of vengeance, lead along the bloody path by the Old Gods of Norse Mythology! From Harvey and Eisner Award-winning author Brian Azzarello and acclaimed artist Vanesa R. Del Rey (The Empty Man, Redlands).

THE TERMINATOR #1

Dynamite Entertainment

Though Skynet failed to eliminate Sarah Connor and her son John, the genocidal AI hasn't exhausted every avenue of attack yet. There are still paths into the past that will allow it to destroy the human resistance that is poised to bring it down. Skynet sends Terminators around the world and throughout time to target current resistance fighters, their ancestors, and those unlucky enough to be in the strike zones. When all of history becomes a battlefield, nowhere — and nowhen — is safe! Written by Declan Shalvey, art by Luke Sparrow.

HYDE STREET #1

Image Comics

A new epic era in character-centered horror begins as Ghost Machine launches Hyde Street, its newest ongoing series from creators Geoff Johns and Ivan Reis! In every city and town, off every country road and metropolis avenue, if you make a wrong turn... you might find yourself on Hyde Street. But be careful who you talk to and what you do, because the consequences make death itself seem like the easy way out!

MP-04

MOON KNIGHT: FIST OF KHONSHU #1

Marvel Comics

Marc Spector... back from beyond! As an avatar and agent of Khonshu, the Egyptian God of the Moon, former mercenary Marc Spector has died and come back to life on more than one occasion. To the ignorant, his fate beyond death's grasp may seem idyllic, but being chosen as a "Fist of Khonshu" comes with a heavy cost! And, like bones in a street fight, Marc Spector, and the multitudes he contains, may be about to break!

TOMBS & TOMES: HALLOWEEN HORROR & TITANIC TOMES 2024!

In this issue of PREVIEWS, we double down on our monthly theme with two themes under the TOMBS & TOMES banner! First off, "TOMBS" covers our second month of Halloween-inspired offerings, this time of the merchandise kind — action figures, statues, models, plush, and more — all ready to ship before October 31st! Secondly, "TOMES" refers to our annual salute to the giant collected editions we know as Omnibuses... Omnibi... uh, really BIG books a.k.a. TITANIC TOMES! Start your journey into the realm of these must have volumes on page 226 of this issue, and then look for more offerings elsewhere in this issue. Then flip the catalog over and turn to page M-35 for our chill-filled HALLOWEEN HORROR section! Either way, you're bound to find something cool and scary in this issue!

36 YEARS AND COUNTING...

I wish I could tell you all the details of my trip to California this past July, visiting with my friends and family in Sacramento. And how I drove south to Los Angeles and then took a train down to San Diego for Comic Con 2024. I wish I could, but as I write this, I am still on the East Coast in Maryland. I'd just be making stuff up if I did!

What I can report now (since it's only a few days away) is that next Wednesday, July 17th, will mark my 36th anniversary with Diamond Comic Distributors and my beloved PREVIEWS catalog!

It's been an honor and a privilege to work alongside so many talented and like-minded people over the years, many that I still call friends to this day, although we may not have worked together now for years. I've seen plenty of changes in the comic book field, creators rise and fall, comic shops come and go, and even wrote a few comics myself along the way. I've been at this a long time, and I have a few more good years in me to get the job done and share the coolest and craziest new products with shops and fandom at large each month. I wouldn't be doing this every month if this life, this passion for ALL of it, wasn't real. I have been a fan since the 1970s... and I intend to go out as one, as well!

In this month's PREVIEWS, we're celebrating not one, but TWO themes for the month! We call it "TOMBS & TOMES", and while it sounds like the title of a D&D wannabe RPG, it's actually the umbrella title for our two themes this month: HALLOWEEN HORROR and TITANIC TOMES!

The TITANIC TOMES come first in this issue on Page 226 and feature a selection of those massive omnibus collections that have become one of the favorite formats of collectors. We have a wide range of titles from which to choose this month, and the choices continue throughout the issue, wherever you see the TOMBS & TOMES or TITANIC TOMES icons!

On the other side of the catalog, we have our fantastic HALLOWEEN PREVIEWS Super-Section starting on Page M-35! Beneath a cover designed to look like that of a vintage monster magazine, you'll find every kind of Halloween/Horror goody, from action figures and statues, to model kits, plush, puzzles, stickers and more, if it's horrible (and cool!) it'll be in there! And it will all be available to ship to stores and in your hands before Halloween!

That's about that for this month. I'll be back next month with true tales of my West Coast/Comic Con adventures!!

Heritage Comics & Comic Art Auction Totals $19.68M

Heritage's Comics & Comic Art Signature Auction achieved multiple auction records on its way to an impressive total of $19.68 million. Lee Elias' Black Cat Mystery #50 cover – the shocking art of a man's face and hands melting – soared to $840,000. Frank Miller's Daredevil #165 cover reached $324,000 and Whiz Comics #2 (#1) CGC 7.0 (Captain Marvel's debut) totaled $288,000.

Top sales also included Johnny Craig's The Haunt of Fear #15 cover for $264,000, Marvel Comics #1 CGC 7.0 (introductions of Human Torch, Ka-Zar, and Angel) for $228,000, John Romita Sr. and Mike Esposito's Amazing Spider-Man #50 page from Kingpin's debut for $216,000, Graham Ingles' The Haunt of Fear #14 cover for $204,000, and Elias' Chamber of Chills #23 cover of a decaying corpse and terrified woman for $180,000.

ComicLink Sells Steve Ditko Original Art for $590K; Sets Record

ComicLink sold a Steve Ditko Spider-Man Marvel Masterwork pin-up for $590,000 in June 2024, setting an auction record for any example of Ditko original art. Ditko illustrated this piece during his famed run on The Amazing Spider-Man. It was never published as a pin-up, although a modified version was later used to create the 1966 life-sized Spider-Man door poster, and other early Marvel merchandise including their first trading card set.

One of the most interesting aspects of this original art is its provenance. The original owner met Stan Lee at the age of 12 during a family visit to New York City. "...we were escorted to Stan Lee's office where Stan immediately greeted us with a smile and graciously agreed to give us a tour and as parting gift, he signed and gifted the pin-up which we were super excited to receive as my brother and I were both Spider-Man fans," the consignor said in ComicLink's description.

The Ray of Light Karolina Dean

Karolina Dean is a member of the Runaways who can manipulate solar energy, including creating force fields, shooting blasts of light energy, creating bioluminescence, and she's resistant to heat. Also going by Lucy in the Sky or Princess Justice, she was introduced in Runaways #1 (July 2003) by creators Brian K. Vaughan and Adrian Alphona.

Karolina is the daughter of famous actors Leslie and Frank Dean, and is the only older member of the Runaways who didn't see her parents murder an innocent girl as a sacrifice. Because of this, she didn't immediately believe what she was told about her parents. Eventually, she saw proof of her parents' sins, she joined the Runaways, and they decided to bring their parents to justice.

TROY LITTLE

EDGE ESSENTIALS

Pick up these books to learn more about Troy's Indie Edge style!

- Angora Napkin: The Golden McGuffin GN (JUL241946)
- Cult of the Lamb #1 (2nd Printing) (APR247216)
- Rick and Morty vs Dungeons & Dragons DLX Edition HC (APR211826)

Please tell us a bit about yourselves!

Hi, my name is Troy Little and I'm a cartoonist, writer and publisher from Prince Edward Island, Canada. I've been working in animation and comics since the late '90s on both licensed projects as well as creator owned and small press books.

What are your favorite projects you've contributed to over the past decade?

I've been fortunate to have been nominated for an Eisner multiple times; twice for my Angora Napkin (The Golden McGuffin / JUL241946) series and also for my adaptation of Hunter S. Thompson's Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas. I've written and illustrated for The Powerpuff Girls, entered the multiverse with Jim Zub on a few Rick & Morty (vs. Dungeons & Dragons / APR211826) books and co-founded Pegamoose Press with my wife and fellow cartoonist, Brenda Hickey.

What are you currently working on?

These days I split my time between art duties on Cult of the Lamb (#1 Second Ptg. / APR247216), Kevin Eastman's Radically Rearranged Ronin Ragdolls, my long time OGN The Allusion of Life and I'm excited about expanding our publishing line at Pegamoose Press with Orchard of the Tame by Nick Cross and Marlo Meekins.

What fun titles are you reading?

One of my favourite discoveries recently was a book we found in Angouleme called Jolies Tenebres (Beautiful Darkness) by Fabien Vehlmann & Kerascoet and was delighted to find there is a recent English translation from Drawn & Quarterly (JUL181781). It's a beautifully illustrated and innocently creepy tale of a group of little characters escaping from the decomposing corpse of a young girl.

Another wonderfully twisted tale I've enjoyed is the Hobtown Mystery Stories by Kris Bertin and Alexander Forbes. Originally published by Conundrum Press, it was recently picked up by Oni Press in a colour edition. The Case of the Missing Men (JAN241850) kicks off this odd Nancy Drew meets David Lynch mystery thriller series.

Finally, Dwellings. Published by both Black Eye Books and Oni Press, this series is a phenomenally well designed, spot on retro horror comic in the style of Gold Key Comics by a master of the craft, Jay Stephens.

USER'S GUIDE

There's a lot of awesome comics and products to look through in PREVIEWS. "A lot" might be a bit of an understatement, as each month's catalog is filled with hundreds and hundreds of pages of upcoming comics and related merchandise! It can be easy to accidentally overlook a new series you've been dying to read or a figure you've been pining to add to your shelf when there's so many things to browse. That's why we've put together this guide to help you learn how to use PREVIEWS like a pro to order the awesome titles and products you want!

WHAT EXACTLY IS PREVIEWS?

PREVIEWS is part catalog, part magazine (we call it a Mag-a-log!) of monthly listings of all of the upcoming comic titles and related products from your favorite publishers and manufacturers in one convenient place. And don't worry—PREVIEWS is organized by publisher and product type (and color-coded to boot!), to make it easy to find and flip to the section or items you're looking for. Each item listing has the information you need, such as format, size, page count, price, release date, stock or item code, and descriptive text, and nearly every listing is accompanied by artwork or images.

The most important aspect of PREVIEWS to remember is that items solicited in the catalog are anticipated to ship 2-3 months later (or more). For example, if you found a comic you wanted in the May issue of PREVIEWS, you can expect to see it turn up in your local comic shop in July. The catalog can be a great resource for figuring out where your favorite comic series is going, or for discovering new ones that you'll want to add to your library—not to mention all the other awesome products!

HOW DO I ORDER FROM PREVIEWS?

When you've picked out all of the items you want, you can fill out the items you want, you can fill out the Short Order Form included in your copy of PREVIEWS and submit it to your local comic shop. You can also ask your friendly neighborhood retailer about obtaining a Customer Order Form, a booklet that contains a complete listing of all the items made available for that month.

These forms make pre-ordering your comics and products a breeze and can help your local comic shop decide what to stock in the store for other customers, too! Be sure to also ask your retailer about their pullbox or subscription service. Once you've submitted your order, you can sit back and relax, or try to contain your excitement until your comics and merchandise arrive!

A NEW FRONT OPENS IN THE WAR ACROSS TIME IN DYNAMITE'S NEW TERMINATOR SERIES

Thwarted time and again in their attempts to kill Sarah and John Connor in the past—and end the human resistance against them in the future—Skynet conceives of a new strategy, one that will send Terminators into other times and target unexpected humans in an effort to bring about the fall of the human resistance by other means.

Declan Shalvey and Luke Sparrow offer a startlingly new take of the war between humanity and the genocidal artificial intelligence it created based on James Cameron's iconic science-fiction film for Dynamite Entertainment's new series, The Terminator. With all of time open to them, the Terminators will have many opportunities to bring about their desired future—and humanity will have many chances to be unexpected heroes.

Put on Brad Fiedel's masterful soundtrack and settle in this fall for Dynamite Entertainment's new Terminator series!

This October, sees the return of plucky detective MINKY WOODCOCK with an occult horror twist! Inspired by a true WWII maritime operation, shocking satanic events, monstrous men, and one salacious sea creature, this third series tells the tale of Minky's encounter with legendary horror writer H.P. Lovecraft, creator of the dreaded Cthulhu.

We chatted with writer/artist CYNTHIA VON BUHLER about this exciting new series of Minky. Woodcock.

CYNTHIA VON BUHLER MINKY WOODCOCK

Private detective Minky Woodcock has crossed paths with Nikola Tesla, Harry Houdini, and now H.P. Lovecraft. What inspired you to create a Woodcock story featuring this iconic writer, and what Lovecraft stories did you read as inspiration for the series?

I was thinking about doing a book on Ian Fleming with Minky as an influence for the James Bond books. Nick Landau of Titan Comics recommended looking into H.P. Lovecraft and Aleister Crowley as source material, and I discovered that Crowley knew Fleming -- they worked together during WWII. We don't know if Crowley and Lovecraft ever met, but the monsters in their books are eerily similar; and Lovecraft did work with Houdini. I found real-life connections among all of them and wove together a plot with my fictional detective, Minky Woodcock.

I read every Lovecraft story I could get my hands on, including At The Mountains of Madness, The Call of Cthulhu, and History of the Necronomicon, as well as Lovecraft's letters and a draft for The Cancer of Superstition, which he was ghost-writing for Houdini at the time of the magician's death. I was particularly interested in Lovecraft's dreams. As a narcoleptic, I have lived with constant vivid, realistic nightmares and paralysis my whole life. I wonder if Lovecraft might also have been narcoleptic.

The Girl Called Cthulhu* is described as inspired by a true WWII maritime operation. What can you tell us about this?

I was researching military operations in London where I could have Minky meet Fleming, and Fleming was involved with "Operation Mincemeat," a scheme to deceive the Nazis using a planted corpse. I researched the family of the corpse they used. After much sleuthing, I dug up genealogy and census documents about the dead man's family. His younger sister, Gladys, was in New York in 1926, which gave me an excuse to have her meet Minky. Seventeen years later, after they've become close friends, Minky offers to help Gladys find her missing brother, and that case intertwines with the work Aleister Crowley hires her to do. It's all based on historical evidence, as all the Minky Woodcock books are. In this case, the most fascinating aspect is the role that writers played in ending WWII.

As a playwright, live performances have often tied into your comics. Is there an artistic intersection between live performance and sequential art, and conversely what are the key differences?

I write books with pictures, whether for children or adults. Sequential art lends itself to theater because I've storyboarded the ideas in my head. Set design and character are an integral part of theater and it's all outlined in my book, so I can just hand an actor my book to explain the story, tone, and vision. One of my upcoming graphic novels is in development with a major Hollywood studio to become an animated film, and in connection with that project I'm creating an eleven-foot-tall puppet that will travel globally in conjunction with the book and film. It's all immersive storytelling.

Your artistic style has a unique look to it, which you have said is inspired by the pulp and comic-book art of the 20s and 30s. What are some of your favorite titles from this period?

I love old pulp magazines like Weird Tales, Strange Stories, Spicy-Adventure Stories, etc.. The art is quite well done and shows that the artists most likely used live models, as I do. Often the actors I cast for my shows also model for my comics. Pearls Daily is always my Minky Woodcock model and actress. The minute I saw Pearls onstage practicing a ballet at one of our rehearsals I knew she was my Minky.

As a female creator in an industry that is often dominated by the male gaze and perspective, what is your experience exploring themes of femininity, sexuality, and crime in your art?

In most vintage pulp comics the women are dumb sex objects often seen in masochistic poses, tied up, sobbing by the phone, saved by men. The women in my pulp comics are smart, confident, independent, and they save themselves. These books turn the tables on the sexism found in vintage comics. We hired female artists to create the variant covers, and I loved seeing how each woman interpreted my characters. There's power, intelligence, eroticism, and a wide variety of female gaze in the covers. That said, I hope the Minky Woodcock books appeal to all genders. Minky is pansexual and so am I.

Black Metal Swamp Thing meets
The Crow from superstars Brian Azzarello and Vanesa Del Rey!

In nature there are gods older than the devil... Nothing can prepare you for what's coming in this violent, electrifying descent into this bloody, black metal infused revenge saga.

Val, an American metalhead attending a festival in Oslo, begins her penumbrous pilgrimage into the vast depths of vengeance.

After her victimization at the hands of a charismatically vile local band, the Old Gods of Norse Mythology guide her along her path in the name of women everywhere. Will she walk a warrior's path... or become a behemoth beyond human recognition?

Harvey and Eisner Award-winning, New York Times bestselling Brian Azzarello brings metal, magic, and mayhem to a revenge story akin to Swamp Thing by way of The Crow, brought to life with breathtaking imagery by acclaimed artist Vanesa Del Rey (The Empty Man, Redlands).

"MINOR ARCANA is so immediately full of life, pathos, and mystery. Jeff Lemire makes building a world look effortless, and I'm desperate to read more."

—James Tynion IV

Jeff Lemire continues his monumental new creator-owned series, as Theresa enters the frightening memories of the dead, searching for peace for a desperate client of her late mother. Liminal and lacking luminance beyond her darkest nightmares, the trance she's trapped in is unfortunately exactly where she needs to be.

However, Theresa's anger and unhealed past, combined with the revelation of magic being very real, will do more than muddy the waters, not to mention a dark figure trailing her from just beyond the light's edge...

SOMETHING IS KILLING THE CHILDREN #1

We see a THICK LINE OF TREES. The edge of the forest at the edge of a country road.
It's daytime.

CAP: TWO WEEKS LATER.

2.
A YOUNG GIRL, maybe 10 years old, is sitting in a red Radio Flyer wagon on the side of a country road. Isolated. She's in a pink winter jacket. One of her sleeves has been knotted, showing that she is missing one of her arms. One of her eyes has a gauze patch over it. None of these injuries are new, and they don't concern her much. They are old news. What concerns her is what's happening in the forest. There is a backpack sitting next to her in the wagon (this is Erica's backpack).

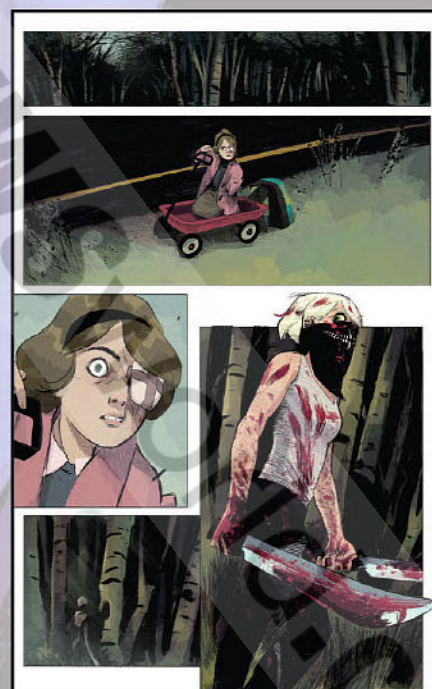

3.
We see her look up, alert. She sees something moving in the woods...

4.
A FIGURE starts to emerge from between the trees...

5.
WE SEE ERICA SLAUGHTER FOR THE FIRST TIME. She is holding two bloody machetes. Her bandana is up. Blood is splattered all over her... Her whole body is steaming in the winter air.

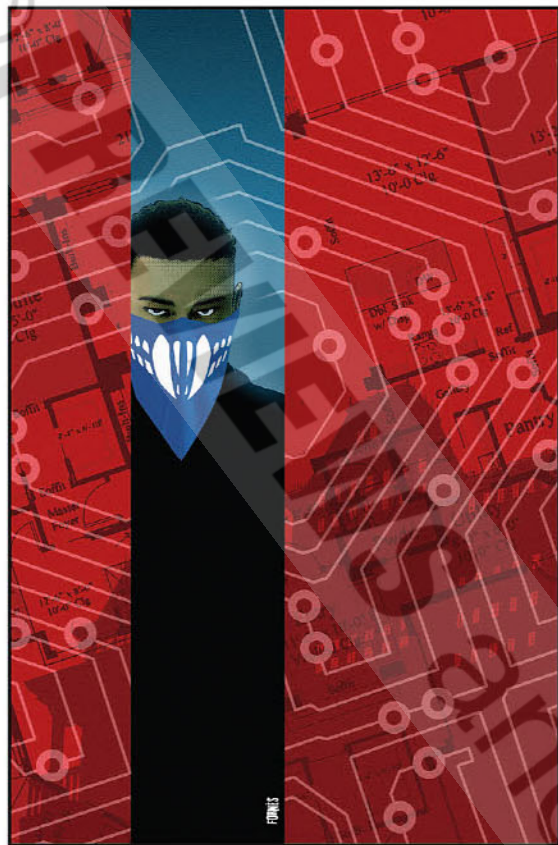

Artwork by Werther Dell'Edera

ERICA drops the machetes at the edge of the road as she approaches the wagon, silently...
7.
She rummages through the backpack, ignoring the girl sitting next to it.
8.
She pulls out a large bottle of water from the bag, and sits next to the wagon.
9.
She drinks it, eagerly.
10.
THE GIRL watches her, waiting for her to talk.
But ERICA doesn't. She drinks from the water again.

In The Lost Book of B, the immortal warrior becomes a pawn of none other than Genghis Khan himself, the brutal warlord of the Mongol Empire. As the berserker is used as a pawn to destroy, devastate, and pave the way for the Silk Road, he must battle against his seemingly unstoppable violent urges and break free from the hold the warlord has over him.

The city of Oshawa, Ontario is gone. Without a trace.

No one remembers it or the 170,000 missing people that also disappeared. The survivors who were lucky enough to be out of town when it happened are few, and strangely, their memories are fading fast. The only way to survive is to seek each other out and work together.

While being forgotten can have its upsides when it comes to less-than-legal means of making ends meet, the dwindling survivors will have to deal with the moral conflicts between them, along with the baseline of hopelessness in a world that left them behind.

As the variety of skills left between the remaining Displaced shrinks, what ends will they go to for their own survival?

Highly acclaimed writer Ed Brisson (Batman: The Brave and the Bold, Predator), rising star artist Luca Casaloguida (James Bond), and red hot colorist Dee Cuniffe (Barnstormers, Crossover) will make you ask, in a world where no one remembers you, what would you do to simply... exist?

The plans to kill Sarah Connor and her son John have failed, but the genocidal Skynet isn't out of options yet. There are still a few more avenues into the past that will allow it to destroy the human resistance that is poised to smash its processors into silicon shrapnel — it just needs to expand its theater of operations.

Opening a new front in the war, Terminators are dispatched across the globe and throughout time to target current resistance fighters, their ancestors, and anyone else unlucky enough to be in the strike zones. And while none of these secondary assignments are as straightforward as the missions of the first T-800 and T-1000, time is literally on the machines' side. When all of history becomes a war zone, nowhere — and nowhen — is safe!

Acclaimed creator DECLAN SHALVEY (ThunderCats, Old Dog) returns to the present for another blockbuster Dynamite series, joining rising star artist LUKE SPARROW (Star Trek) for all-new tales of Skynet and its nigh-unstoppable mechanical assassins — all supported by algorithmically perfect covers from SHALVEY, EDWIN GALMON, SWAY, and DAVID COUSENS!

THE TERMINATOR TRAVELS BACK IN TIME FOR NEW COMICS! SUPERSTAR DECLAN SHALVEY (THUNDERCATS) SHARES HIS APPROACH!

Declan, first you tackled ThunderCats with us, you've done Alien elsewhere, and now you're taking on another massive classic franchise in The Terminator. What draws you to these beloved stories?

Ha, well being offered them is the first hurdle!

Seriously though, they're all franchises that are familiar and exciting to me for various reasons. ThunderCats was more of a childhood passion, but both Alien and Terminator hit the tone and mood that I lean into more naturally. It's really a win/win for me in that I get to write the type of stories I like, but get to take advantage of established worlds and rules and play around in them. All these franchises are very visual too, which appealed to me as an artist, so I have a strong visual sensibility of my own going in and they're great opportunities to work with artists who have strong visual storytelling chops, which is endlessly engaging for me.

With Terminator especially, editor Nate Cosby does a great job in coming to me not just with a franchise book, but a clear idea of what he's looking for. To write a Terminator book is of course, such a cool opportunity — but knowing what the book is (or isn't) gives me a clear roadmap to work with.

The original Terminator film was such a massive success and influence for fans and filmmakers. It was one of the next steps in the evolution of big blockbuster moviemaking, with a big cast, big effects, and more. How much of that explosive energy are you trying to capture in this comic series?

To be honest, not much! We're taking a more ground-level approach to the series. As innovative and groundbreaking as the first film was, it was also grounded in its environment, being noirish and moody as hell. An unstoppable force is coming to kill you — that's the element of the franchise I want to lean into. More about characters that find themselves faced with this futuristic monstrosity rather than all the lore and continuity that comes with it.

Beyond the Terminators themselves, obviously the franchise also has memorable human characters. Can you introduce us to some of the cast in your story? Will it be anyone we recognize, or new faces?

Pretty much all new faces, the only real recurring face will be that chrome skull we all love so much. The approach of this series is new situations, new dilemmas in each issue. Mostly done-in-one stories, but as the series progresses there may be some recognizable faces...

A big part of the Terminator mythos is its unique new takes on the robots. Should fans be looking forward to new designs from artist Luke Sparrow or yourself?

Yes and no. We're going for a more stripped-down, pulpy approach to the book. The T-800 is the true scare of the book, so that is mainly what we will be dealing with. As to who the Terminator is, that is another question. The strength of the book really will lean on the strength of Luke's overall character design, making each new human form of the Terminator believable and threatening, and I have full confidence that he's going to nail that.

Speaking of Luke, he's an up and coming artist, and this series is likely to be his big debut to a lot of fans. As a renowned artist yourself in addition to your writing, how has it been working with him and seeing his art come along?

After admiring his work for a long time, I had the benefit of recently working with Luke on a short story for my own book, Old Dog. It was a great way to see how we'd work together, and his pages were so impressive, I knew I really wanted to keep working with him. Around that time this Terminator project came up, so I suggested him to editor Nate Cosby and everything has clicked since. Luke has a fantastic eye for believable characters and environments, which is really the glue that will hold the book together. There's a lot of worldbuilding in his pages, a lot of great, subtle touches that make everything so believable. Each issue will give him a great opportunity to really show what he can do, and I can't wait for everyone else to see it. Colin Craker is also a great artist that I know is going to channel a lot of atmospheric color onto Luke's inks.

Fresh off saving the universe (yeah, she works big) from being enslaved by self-proclaimed gods in Barbarella: The Center Cannot Hold, Barbs and Vix are ready for a little R&R — but they're about to discover that not all pleasure planets are created equal. In fact, some are downright unreal!

Meanwhile, in another quadrant of the galaxy, something is off with Earth's oldest and most venerable colony — something that only Barbarella's uniquely well-rounded skills can resolve!

New faces, new locales, and new adventures await in Barbarella #1, brought to you by the new creative team of writer BLAKE NORTHCOTT (Vampirella, Catwoman, Evanescence: Echoes From the Void) and artist ANNA MOROZOVA (Judge Dredd, 2000 AD, Brail for Dummies) — all enhanced by form-fitting covers from JOSEPH MICHAEL LINSNER, ANNIE WU, RICHARD PACE, and cosplay by RACHEL HOLLON!

BLAKE NORTHCOTT'S VISION FOR BARBARELLA!

Blake, Barbarella is famed as the original badass space babe — what drew you to working with this iconic character?

There are only a handful of sci-fi/fantasy characters who have endured for decades, and Barbarella is right at the top of the list, alongside Leia, Ripley, and Sarah Connor. Telling one of her stories is the opportunity of a lifetime — how could I say no to that?

Plus, right as we started the creative process, news dropped that one of my favorite actors, Sydney Sweeney, would be playing Barbarella in the new film. That alone would've sold me on the idea even if I wasn't already a huge fan of the source material!

In addition your own creations and your extensive prose work, you've written for a range of comics titles and worked on other signature characters like Catwoman, Vampirella, and Aspen Matthews from Fathom. What is your approach to writing the voice of Barbarella?

It's all about honoring the character's creators, and respecting the fans. Every writer has a signature style, but if you deviate too far from the original blueprint, it can come off as fan fiction rather than a story that feels authentic to the universe. Readers are savvy; they can detect when you're taking liberties.

With Barb's voice, it was about bringing the tone back to the whimsy of the 1960s. Funny, sexy, wild, but not so over-the-top that it feels like there aren't real stakes. It's about finding that balance.

The character is usually rocketing around unique planets and more. Can you tease us a bit about the tale you're telling and where Barbarella will find herself this time around?

Barb will visit a number of new planets that have never been explored before. We're going to see her do more planet-hopping than in any previous adventure, and it all starts on a deadly new world that's custom-designed for intergalactic entertainment.

We'll also meet some original characters that will make longtime fans happy — especially if you love the original film, and Vix!

Of course, many may know Barbarella from her beloved film from 1968, which was based on the original comics by Jean-Claude Forest, and Dynamite has published stories by Mike Carey and Sarah Hoyt, and there have been others. Did you look to any other Barbarella media in developing your story for influence or inspiration?

Along with everyone else, I fell in love with Jane Fonda in the film, and that inspired me to read everything from Jean-Claude Forest.

Then I dove into Dynamite's amazing Barbarella comics, and I was intrigued at how the character had evolved, and how much the universe had expanded over the years. Every new writer did an incredible job adding new layers to Barb.

Your artist collaborator here, Anna Morozova, is largely known for her contributions to 2000 AD and its Judge Dredd stories. This will be one of her first major spotlights for American readers, even though it's a classic European comic character. How has the collaboration been with her so far and what do you think of her visual interpretations of your scripts?

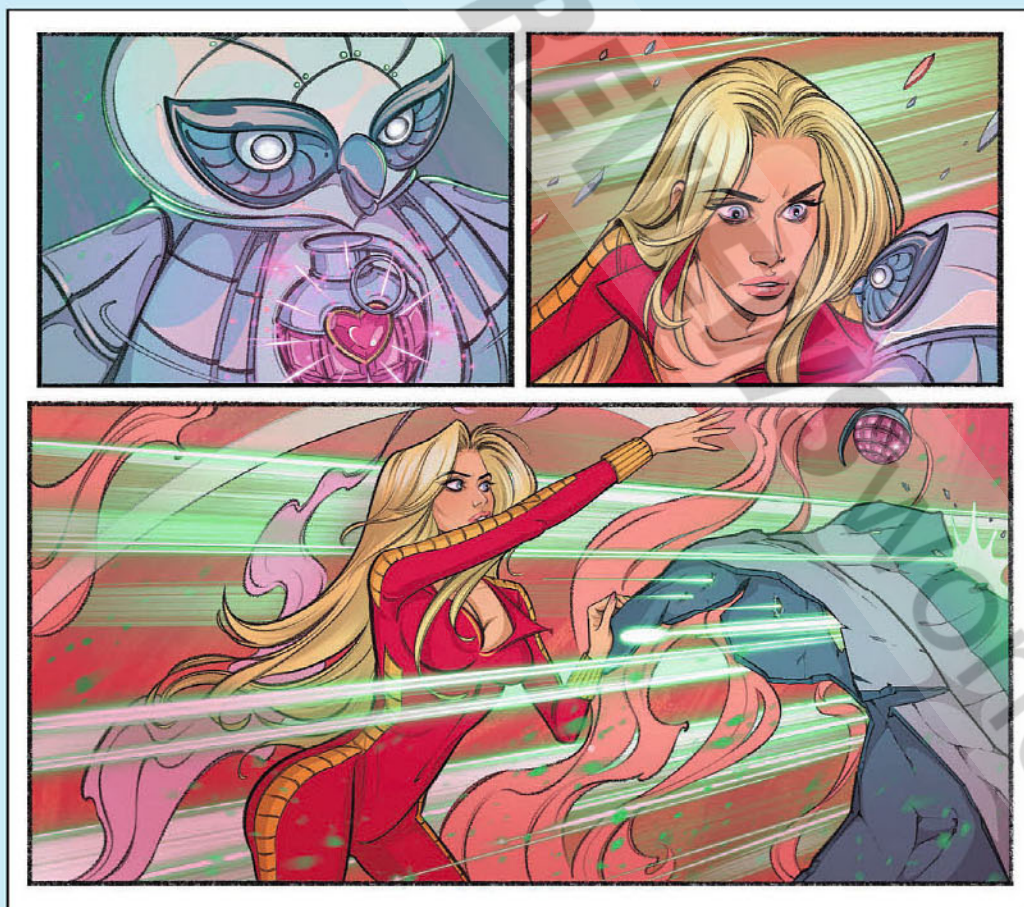

Anna is a phenom. She has a smooth, effortless style that makes her characters glide across the panels. I'm thankful I get to work with her before she becomes a household name among comic fans, because that day is coming soon.

In addition to being incredibly talented, Anna is such a sweet person, and so easy to work with. Both being European women, we have a lot in common — including our love for Euro-centric comics like Barbarella!

A FAMILY SAGA — IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE!

"From the 1960s until the turn of the 21st century, New York City was the world's epicenter of organized and white-collar crime. During those four decades, the most feared Mafia chiefs, assassins, defrocked stockbrokers, Orthodox Jewish money-launderers, and Arab bankers sought the counsel of one man: my father, Jimmy LaRossa, a Kennedy-era prosecutor who became the defense lawyer of first resort."

— James M. LaRossa Jr.

James LaRossa was truly a larger-than-life figure — an attorney who was at the center of some of the most important criminal cases of the 20th century. He was also the father of four children: Susan, Nancy, Thomas — and James M. LaRossa Jr., who would spend the last five years of his father's life learning and recording the amazing history presented here.

Based on LaRossa Jr.'s acclaimed memoir of the same title, Last of the Gladiators tells the story of how he found his own identity and place in the world while growing up as the son of one of the most outsized and outrageously successful personalities in the history of New York City — a father whom LaRossa Jr. always called his "true north."

Written by LaRossa Jr. and Jonathan Vankin and illustrated by Giorgio Pontrelli, Last of the Gladiators is filled with true tales of the New York mob and features some of the most colorful characters of the era (including Paul Castellano, John Gotti, Don King, and Frank Sinatra) but is, at its heart, a love story between a father and a son — one that ultimately reveals what it takes to become, and what it means to be, a real man.

— SELWYNN RAAB, AUTHOR OF *FIVE FAMILIES: THE RISE, DECLINE, AND RESURGENCE OF AMERICA'S MOST POWERFUL MAFIA EMPIRES

"LAST OF THE GLADIATORS IS BETTER THAN ANY LEGAL THRILLER YOU'LL READ THIS SUMMER BECAUSE THIS ONE IS AN AMAZING TRUE STORY WITH ALL THE IMPORTANT THINGS THAT BEGIN WITH THE LETTER L: LIFE, LAW, LAWYERS, LARCENY, LAUGHTER, LASAGNA, LA COSA NOSTRA, AND THE LIFELONG LOVE BETWEEN A FATHER AND SON NAMED LAROSSA."

— DENIS HAMILL, AWARD-WINNING JOURNALIST

"JIMMY LAROSSA WAS A CONSUMMATE CRIMINAL DEFENSE LAWYER, INDEED ONE OF THE GREAT LAWYERS OF HIS GENERATION — TOUGH, HONEST, BRILLIANT, A FABULOUS CROSS-EXAMINER, AND A TRUE FRIEND. HIS SON TELLS IT LIKE IT WAS. HE WAS UNFORGETTABLE!"

After interrupting a sacrifice to the serpent god Set and interrogating one of its recalcitrant priests, Sonja is one step closer to finding the late Sultan of Turan's last surviving offspring, Ashim — the key to the She-Devil's plan to staunch the chaos that her regicide inadvertently unleashed across the kingdom.

But locating the bastard prince isn't going to be easy. Ashim has been snatched up by the Sons of Set, who are busy indoctrinating him to serve as a mouthpiece for their rapidly expanding cult. Sonja needs help — and conveniently enough, assistance happens to be close at hand in the form of the sinister mercenary Bloodless. They both want to find the prince, so why not form an alliance? After all, if you can't trust a deathly pale stranger covered in tattoos and bone-handled knives, who can you trust?

Author LUKE LIEBERMAN (Red Sonja: Birth of the She-Devil) and artist ALBERTO LOCATELLI (Vampirella: Dead Flowers) deepen their tale of power, oppression, and unlikely redemption in Red Sonja: Death and the Devil #2, enhanced by covers from JOSEPH MICHAEL LINSNER, CELINA, MORITAT, and cosplay by RACHEL HOLLON!

With spooky season kicking off, Buttercup has set her sights on winning the Townsville Gazette's contest for the best Halloween horror comic — and what better place to find inspiration than a big, old, possibly haunted hotel?

Of course, Townsville being Townsville, there's also no shortage of nefarious malefactors prowling around, just waiting for the chance to catch the girls off guard. Will their Halloween bickering keep the Petite Powerhouses from thwarting their villains? (Hey, stranger things have happened!)

Dynamite is capping off its Army of Darkness anniversary series with an oversized dose of all-out carnage! This issue's splatter-ific story by TONY FLEECES is so over-the-top that we had to enlist not one, not two, but three incredible artists to chronicle the absolute chaos of its Deadite slaughter!

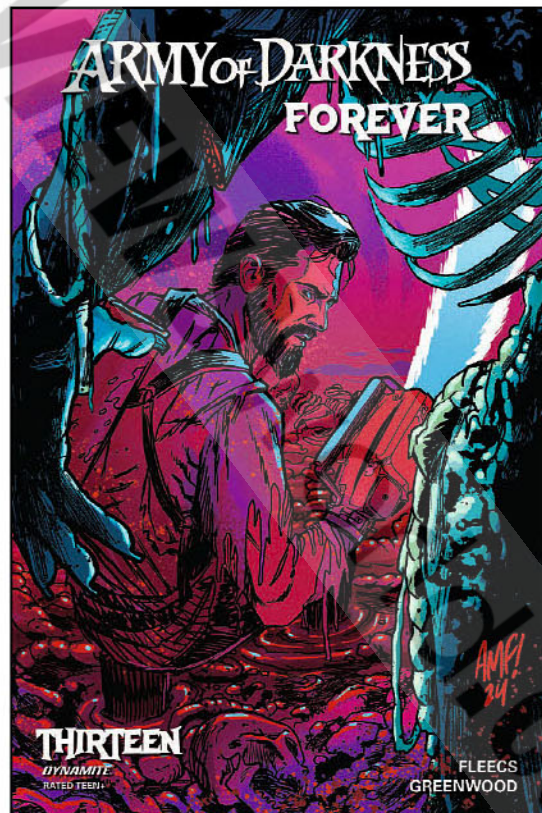

With unhinged interiors by EAMON WINKLE, KEWBER BAAL, and POP MHAN, and crazed covers from series stalwarts ARTHUR SUYDAM, BJORN BARENDTS, CHRIS BURNHAM, and TONY FLEECES, Army of Darkness Forever #13 puts the "grand" in grand-guignol — and gives the unstoppable Ash Williams the sendoff that a hero of his caliber deserves!

Sweetie and the entire Candy Vigilante Squad (Candy Wolf, Pixie, Gumme Bear, Tinsel, Hansel and Gretel, Peter Cottontail, Jack Rabbit, and Honey B.) have settled into the fully operational “Fortress of Sweetness.” Located on the Twin Islands in New York’s East River, these sweet new digs are decked to the nines with candy-coated drip and equipped with a Sweetie Candy Vigilante-themed pinball machine that is all-in Hatchy Milatchy Multiball!

The team gets a house call from ally Dr. Faerie Wilder, a.k.a. THE Tooth Fairy herself, revealing her integral role in the science and magic of Sweetie’s defense weapons development and the relevance of Sweetie’s “trinkets,” (human teeth excised from those born bad to the bone and inherently evil) — all thanks to her cover/day job as a highly-skilled dentist.

And speaking of bad to the bone, there is a truly evil darkness in NYC, and within that darkness is Genio “Bug” Vespa. The crime syndicate thug and self-made vermin whisperer pays a visit to Sweetie’s new island compound under orders from Bart Volgare. Seeing what a busy little bee she’s been, “Bug” poses as an extermination subcontractor dispatched by the NYC Department of Environmental Protection to investigate a potential contamination on the islands. Will the sweet squad tell him to buzz off — or let him in to see what their new “pestie” is all about? No need to get antsy, though, it’s all goodie gumdrops... Sweetie’s locked and loaded, and there’s no stoppin’ her Jawbreaker from poppin’! Even the Queen Bee Esmeralda bows to Sweetie with love and adoration, and is ready to do battle until the salty feel her sting!

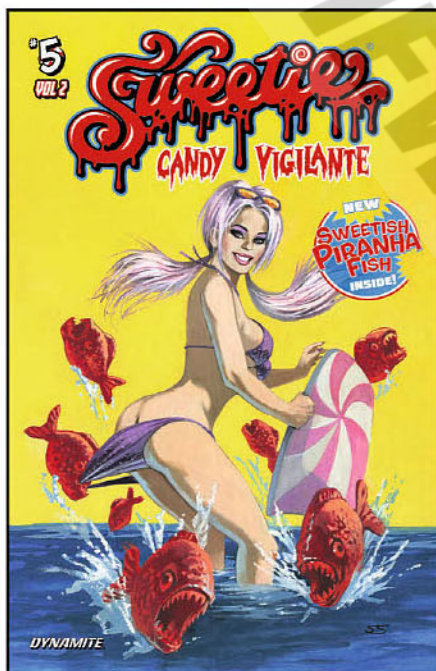

All this awaits, among other surprises — including the breaking news that the waters surrounding the “Fortress of Sweetness” are now populated with Sweetie’s latest creation... Sweetish Piranha Fish! Isn’t that NICE?

TRICK OR TREAT...? DON’T MISS THIS ISSUE — AND BE SURE TO SATISFY YOUR SWEET TOOTH JUST IN TIME FOR HALLOWEEN!

Perhaps the lowest point in a "lousy" year was the marriage director placed Han, a master camera that, in the foreground of a scene until for Day and Jane Lockhart. That was the last shot. "Twisted on the set and called from. He came down and we reached a compromise."

Another feature in The Los Angeles Herald-Examiner pointed a similar portrait of frustration for West Goddard: "this show," marks Goddard says, "is just what I had made to do. The critics either at least could be sure kill a man."¹⁰

There were five, six individual plans, and more of 'em were too happy with what they were getting. You would never know it from what came out, but [writers] were never in a rush to do that show, 'cause they knew it was a headache. But then again they could always blame it on the writers, you know and say, "Gee, I didn't write [this]." But the stars fought for their close-ups.

Dick Tufeld was not one to blame the writings of Justin Allen:

While Will Robinson and the Robot were hugely popular, by the beginning of season two it was clear that Dr. Smith was the show's breakout character and central focus. Iskcon had an intense love/hate relationship with Smith, who couldn't help but cause chaos and trouble.

for the Robinsons and got away with acting out in a way that probably made the average kid feel like a manure duff by comparison. Harris, in fact, was inspired by children's behavior in building his character.

I like to think that I drew Dr. Smith based on every kid I'd ever known and met. I watch kids—the kids—crawl watch them. And they teach me a lot. I did not let of Smith that was absolutely childish and childish. His rudeness would infuriate him I am—kids are that way. I'd cover it up or blame somebody else as Williams do, and I think that's where it began. And then I added to it all of my experience playing crazy, strange, eccentric, stylized, people. I started to do that in my early years on Broadway. And that's really what I was hired to do—to play strange, off-center, characters... they interested me.

Although he was getting the benefit of the new format, Billy Morrison, 32, and the 20-year-old Billy Murray had mixed feelings about the evolution of the show.

On one hand of course I've pleased to see Will become this horrible little guy, and this former delinquent guy who's taken care of business. I liked having plenty to do. On the other hand, I certainly was aware of the fact that the cartoon made the pilot seem like something they expected to be doing once we went to series. I kind of felt bad that they weren't getting a lot of series. I don't think Lost in Space ever really knew what it was. I mean I always played lost. Space straight. I think that June did. The property straight but half the time we were playing it for comedy and half

PARLIAMENT OF ROOKS CREATOR, WRITER AND
ILLUSTRATOR, ABIGAIL JILL HARDING AND CO-WRITER
RICHARD STARKINGS TALK ABOUT THE SERIES...

RICH: So, Abz, your gothic horror epic Parliament of Rooks has been nominated for an Eisner Award in the Best Digital Comic category. Congratulations!

ABZ: Thank you, and congratulations to you too for being nominated for an Eisner Award in the Best Lettering category!

RICH: Yay, us! (laughter) So, we'd been working on Ask for Mercy for Comixology Originals for some time and every now and again I'd see pictures of a giant Rook and a beautiful woman at his feet on your social media... where did that image come from?

ABZ: I was watching too many sci-fi films and period dramas! I was watching The Man in the High Castle while I was drawing Ask for Mercy season one and then I saw Victoria, and I suddenly thought, "What if Rufus Sewell was a giant bird...?" That was the idea that kicked it all off!

RICH: I remember we were a few issues into season 4 of Ask for Mercy and I told you, "Our next Comixology Original is Parliament of Rooks, right?" and your reaction was...

ABZ: "Wot?" (laughter)

RICH: Chip Mosher at Comixology Originals was very supportive, given the ambition of your proposal. How much of the story was already in your head at that point?

ABZ: Chip was super supportive and I am incredibly grateful to him. The majority of the story was there. There were a few changes but the main structure was there.

RICH: And now, in addition to digital on Comixology Originals at Amazon, we're in print at ABLAZE! Do you feel like there's further room for growth or expansion now that the book is seeing print as individual issues?

ABZ: I personally believe that there is still a wider reach with print. There is no doubt folks enjoy reading both digital and physical books, but an actual book, something they can put on their bookshelf and call their own is hard to beat. And books travel — they can be passed on to future avid readers or picked up second hand.

RICH: I totally agree, I'm very much of the opinion that "no one goes to a bar for a drink." We want to look at books in stores, we want recommendations from friends and our local comic book store people, we want that interaction and we want to be part of an audience, a readership.

ABZ: Yeah, it's very gratifying when people approach us at store signings and conventions with copies of our books to have signed. They want to talk about the stories and how they relate to them. It's so exciting to see their excitement. Comic-cons are an intimate way of supporting creators and a place for creators to engage with their readers.

RICH: And, of course, a place to introduce new readers to our comics and characters. Let's talk about inspiration! Parliament of Rooks hits the Gothic Horror and Gothic Romance themes. Talk about the work that influenced you.

ABZ: I think Parliament of Rooks is an amalgamation of all the things I love in gothic fiction and the visual arts — the beautiful and the grotesque, the light and the dark. I regard Beauty and the Beast, Wuthering Heights and Dracula as classics. And I grew up surrounded by Pre-Raphaelite paintings and bronze resin statues of Arthurian lore. So I really so appreciate art with a supernatural, emotional and strongly visual narrative, some of which I do reference in the comic — for instance, The Nightmare by Henry Fuseli.

RICH: What influences your monsters?

ABZ: I wanted to create my own variations of some well-known Goethe-inspired demons, I'd cite artists like Salvator Rosa, Hieronymus Bosch, H.R. Giger and Kentaro Miura as inspirations. They followed through with their own unique depictions of hellish or divine creatures, exercising their particular artistic strengths in the process.

RICH: Visually I think it's like watching 1920s German cinema with 70s folk horror and 80s visceral body horror and some Guillermo Del Toro-directed-Japanese kaiju cinema thrown in.

ABZ: Yes! The Georgian/Victorian period backdrop and the fashion gives it a more fantastical element but much of what we know as 'Gothic' emerged around the turn of the 19th Century. That's definitely the look I was going for.

RICH: Without giving too much away to any of our new readers, what should they expect from Parliament of Rooks?

ABZ: As you have said, many times, it's intense! I will not play that down. It leans very much into the drama that gothic literature essentially leans into. The characters in the book are riding the waves of events out of their control. On an emotional level I hope, readers will connect with the characters, love them, or perhaps love to hate them. You keep telling me the book is about family, and I know I've drawn on experiences in my own life to fuel the story.

RICH: How would you describe your creative process? Do you have a daily routine to keep the cogs turning?

ABZ: For this comic specifically, I thought about my characters in scenarios and then drew concept art encapsulating a moment, or an atmosphere, something that draws you in and prompts more questions than answers. It's a flexible storytelling method that allows me to add stuff before and after each scene takes place. This was something I did over a number of years on Rooks — the characters evolved and the ideas became more elaborate. I used some of the concept art pieces as markers in the overall story and then stitched them all together.

RICH: It's similar to the way we worked on Ask for Mercy — you've always been open to adding a page here or there to add a beat or two to the story. On Parliament of Rooks too, you were also open to adding scenes when I suggested that the story was lacking a moment.

ABZ: Yes, and I do try to draw often to keep up momentum and to maintain a healthy practice of drawing, that's really important. Art is a way of life for me. I am not sure about my fellow artists and creators, but if I go a day or two without drawing I start to panic! (laughter)

RICH: What other comics should we recommend for those who enjoy Parliament of Rooks?

ABZ: I'd recommend Titan comics Bloodborne and Dark Souls series, if you are looking to further scratch that gothic horror featuring monsters-itch.

RICH: Monstress from Image! Oh, and Somna from DSTLRY.

ABZ: Can we recommend our own book, Ask for Mercy? Our group of monster-misfits fighting bigger, badder monsters in a time-traveling adventure!

RICH: It would be silly not to!

ABZ: I'd also like to mention MAW by writer Jude Doyle and artist A.L. Klaplan and Mercy by writer and artist Mirka Andolfo.

RICH: No hard feelings, Mirka, but Ask for Mercy came out first! (laughter) Last question, Abz, if you were damned by dark powers to become a bird, what kind of bird would you want to be?

ABZ: Richard, you already know I already transform into a 5ft crow twice, sometimes three times a year!

RICH: I've seen it happen! And readers will too, in the next Ask for Mercy!

CREATOR FEATURE: CULLEN BUNN & DAN SCHOENING

CB: When I wrote THE CHILLING ADVENTURES OF SALEM, I knew I wasn't done with the malevolent familiar. I knew there were more stories to tell. Salem, after all, has a long history of mischief. He's gotten into all sorts of trouble over the centuries, and I thought it would be fun to see some of that trouble come back to bite him. Maybe literally.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Cullen Bunn is a writer of comic books, prose, film, and TV. He has written stories for some of the most well-known characters in the world. His work for Archie, Marvel, and DC includes titles such as BLOSSOMS 666, UNCANNY X-MEN, X-MEN BLUE, DEADPOOL KILLS THE MARVEL UNIVERSE, MAGNETO, SINESTRO, and many others. His creator-owned work includes THE SIXTH GUN, HARROW COUNTY, THE EMPTY MAN, BONE PARISH, BASILISK, and many others. His website is www.cullenbunn.com.

Archie's MONTH OF MAYHEM

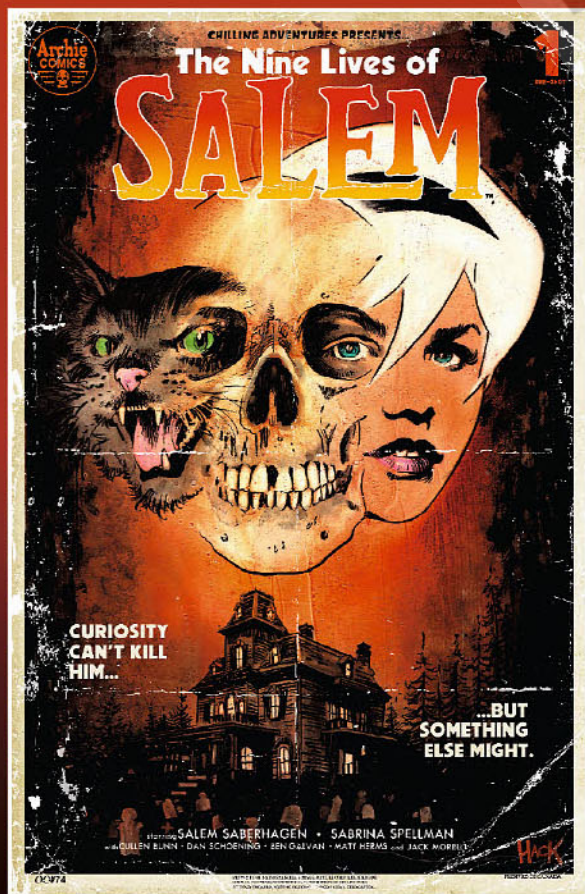

DS: I'm thrilled to return to the horror world of Archie Comics, and what better way to jump back in again than with Salem. The previous issue was an honor to illustrate and I'm excited to see what horrors Sabrina's infamous Black Cat conjures up this time!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dan Schoening is an artist and illustrator who has worked with DC Comics, Archie Comics, IDW, Cryptozoic Entertainment, and BOOM! Studios. His work for Archie includes titles such as CHILLING ADVENTURES OF SALEM, THE CULT OF THAT WILKIN BOY and it's sequel, INITIATION.

Omnibus and deluxe editions have become one of comics' most popular formats; huge hardcover volumes that collect between their covers large chunks of a comic book series or an entire series run. What makes a "Titanic Tome"? First and foremost, it's the volume's overall size. Whether a book stretches its format past the standard 7" x 10" or 8" x 11" sizes or pushes its page count into upper digits past 200 pages (you know, PREVIEWS territory, thank you very much!), one thing is abundantly clear for these hefty publications — size does matter!

And this time out, our TOMBS & TOMES double theme month not only brings us the best in HALLOWEEN-inspired stuff (see PAGE M-35!), we are once again celebrating these TITANIC TOMES throughout this issue, and we've got a nice cross-section of offerings to tempt you with here... as well as elsewhere throughout this issue!

AMERICAN SCARY HC

(W) Jeremy Dauber

America is held captive by horror stories. They flicker on the screen of a darkened movie theater and are shared around the campfire. They blaze out in tabloid true-crime headlines, and in the worried voices of local news anchors. They are consumed, virally, on the phones in each of our pockets. Like the victims in any slasher worth its salt, we can't escape the thrall of scary stories. In American Scary, Jeremy Dauber takes the reader to the startling origins of the horror genre in the United States, drawing a surprising through-line between the lingering influence of the European Gothic, the enslaved insurrection tales propagated by slaveholders, and the apocryphal chronicles of colonial settlers kidnapped by Native Americans, among many others. (STL332925) (C: 0-1-0)

NEOPETS VOLUME 1: THE OMELETTE FAERIE GN

(W) Rebecca Mix (A) Heather Burns

Based on the popular online game Neopets comes the first in a series of graphic novels! Legend has it that hundreds of years ago, a dinosaur of GIGANTIC proportions laid a massive egg. That egg split open, and started to bake in the sun. Ever since then, a giant omelette has been cooking on the Tyrannian Plateau. It may seem silly, but it is true. The Giant Omelette is a staple in Neopets. Each day, hungry Neopets approach the massive, egg monolith and manage to take a slice. But this isn't a story about how the Giant Omelette came to be. It is the story of how we almost lost it—forever. In this beautifully illustrated original graphic novel, readers will follow Sabre-X, a disgraced Fire Faerie named Seraphina, and their Petpets, a Reptillior and a Faellie, on an epic fantastical journey through Neopia to restore one of the most popular parts of the site. CINDERWICH SC

(W) Cherie Priest

"Who put Ellen in the blackgum tree?" Decades after trespassing children spotted the desiccated corpse wedged in the treetop, no one knows the answer. Kate Thrush and her former college professor, Dr. Judith Kane, travel to Cinderwich, Tennessee in hopes that maybe it was their Ellen: Katie's lost aunt, Judith's long-gone lover. But they're not the only ones to have come here looking for closure. The people of Cinderwich, a town hardly more than a skeleton itself, are staunchly resistant to the outsiders' questions about Ellen and her killer. And the deeper the two women dig, the more rot they unearth, the closer they come to exhuming the evil that lies, hungering, at the roots of Cinderwich. (STL290099)

VIDEOTAPES FROM HELL: A VISUAL HISTORY OF CULT, COLLECTIBLE, AND CRAZY VIDEO COVERS HC

The home video revolution was accompanied by an explosion of all kinds of cover art, embodying the anything-goes ethos of an era when obscure, cheaply produced movies—usually with supernatural storylines and bottom-drawer special effects—could be distributed throughout the world and watched from the comfort of one's living room. Videotapes from Hell provides a fascinating illustrated history of VHS cover art in all its glory, from direct-to-video oddities to major studio releases. Drawing on the expansive collection of world-renowned horror expert Stephen Jones, it collects nearly 500 pieces of period artwork, accompanied by detailed captions that give the history of the movie and its release dates in video format. AVERY

PAST TENSE HC

(W/A) Sacha Mardou

When Sacha Mardou turned forty-years-old, she was leading a life that looked perfect on the outside: happily married to the love of her life, enjoying motherhood and her six-year-old daughter, and her first book had just been published. But for reasons she couldn't explain, the anxiety that had always plagued her only seemed to be getting worse and then, without warning, she began breaking out in terrible acne. The product of a stoic, working-class British family, Sacha had a deeply seeded distrust of mental health treatment, but now, living the life she'd built in the US and desperate for relief, she finds herself in a therapist's office for the first time. There she begins the real work of growing up: learning to understand her family of origin and the childhood trauma she thought she'd left hidden in the past but is still entangled in her present life. (STL335258) (C: 0-1-2)

ADRIFT ON A PAINTED SEA GN

(W) Tim Bird (A) Sue Bird

Sue Bird was always painting: botanical art, landscapes, still lifes, and especially the sea. She took classes, kept countless sketchbooks, and filled the house with art. From their neighborhood to their family trips, all the moments of her life were memorialized in her artwork. Throughout her life, she never sold a piece—she gave art to family and friends, and shared her work online, but never received wider recognition for her work. This graphic novel by her son, Tim Bird, explores their family life and her creative explorations through a mix of her paintings and Tim's comics, depicting their relationship and her life from teenagehood to her struggle with cancer at the height of the COVID pandemic. After her death, this graphic novel at last showcases her work. (STL332920) (C: 0-1-0)

Through evocative full color artwork, renowned cartoonist Paul Peart-Smith brings this watershed book to life, centering the perspective of the peoples displaced by Europeans and their white descendants to trace Indigenous perseverance over four centuries against policies intended to obliterate them. Peart-Smith collaborates with experienced graphic novel editor Paul Buhle to provide an accessible introduction to a complex history that will attract new generations of readers of all ages. Lacking guidance from her patron, the Reverend Mother turns to scholarly pursuits as she heals her body and soul, learning all she can from Sanctuary's varied denominations... even as a corruptive force begins to grow from within her own. Direct from the Diablo development team and award-winning author Matthew J. Kirby, this immersive tome with dazzling, all-new illustrations showcases the belief systems that have taken root in Sanctuary over eons. From the Cathedral of Light to the cult of the Triune, Prava's exploration reveals how the power of faith can steer one's destiny, or that of all humanity. (STL332702) (C: 0-1-0)

O/A CAMP POCK-A-WOCKNEE AND THE DYNAMITE SUMMER OF '77 SC (SPECIAL PRICE EDITION)

(W/A) Eric Glickman

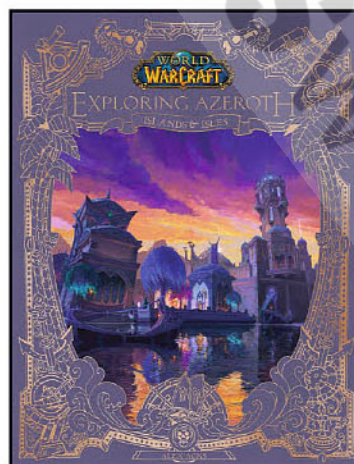

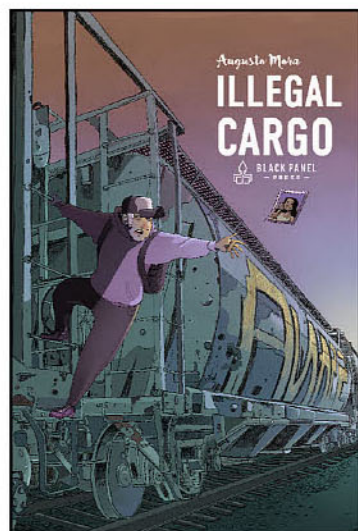

Named one of Kirkus' Best Books of 2023! Camp Pock-a-Wocknee & the DYN-O-MITE Summer of '77 is a coming-of-age graphic novel celebrating the traditions, friendships, and idiocy that make up summers at Jewish sleepaway camp. Combining the nostalgic mood of The Wonder Years, the raucousness of Superbad, and the adolescent angst of Pen15, this 300-page graphic novel juxtaposes classic, black and white, comic strip art with stories that capture the tension created when the innocence of childhood crashes into the messiness of adolescence. THE GREAT WHEN: A LONG LONDON NOVEL HC

(W) Alan Moore

Legendary storyteller Alan Moore presents the first book in an enthralling new fantasy series about murder, magic, and madness in post-WWII London. Dennis Knuckleyard is a hapless eighteen-year-old who works and lives in a second-hand bookstore. One day, his boss and landlady, Coffin Ada, sends him to retrieve some rare books, one of which, Dennis discovers, should not exist. A London Walk by Rev. Thomas Hampole is a fictitious book that appears in a real novel by another author. Yet A London Walk is physically there in his hands, nonetheless. Coffin Ada tells Dennis the book comes from the other London, the Great When, a version of the city that is beyond time. In the Great When, epochs blend and realities and unrealities blur, while concepts such as Crime and Poetry are incarnated as wondrous and terrible beings. But, Coffin Ada tells Dennis, if he does not return the book to this other London, he will be killed. So begins Dennis' adventure in Long London. Delving deep into the city's occult underbelly and tarrying with an eccentric cast of sorcerers, gangsters, and murderers, Dennis finds himself at the center of an explosive series of events that may endanger both Londons. THE WORLD OF LORE: DREADFUL PLACES SC

(W) Aaron Mahnke

Sometimes you walk into a room, a building, or even a town, and you feel it. Something seems off—an atmosphere that leaves you oddly unsettled, with a sense of lingering darkness. Join Aaron Mahnke, the host of the popular podcast Lore, as he explores some of these dreadful places and the history that haunts them. Mahnke takes us to Colorado and the palatial Stanley Hotel, where wealthy guests enjoyed views of the Rocky Mountains at the turn of the twentieth century—and where, decades later, a restless author would awaken from a nightmare, inspired to write one of the most revered horror novels of all time. Mahnke also crosses land and sea to visit frightful sites—from New Orleans to Richmond, Virginia, to the brooding, ancient castles of England—each with its own echoes of dark deeds, horrible tragedies, and shocking evil still resounding. (STL335284) (C: 0-1-2)

In this beautifully illustrated volume, the host of the hit podcast Lore serves as a guide on a fascinating journey through the history of these terrifying creatures, exploring not only the legends but what they tell us about ourselves. PAYING FOR IT: THE FILM EDITION SC

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown
Paying for It was the most talked-about and controversial graphic novel of 2011, a critical success so innovative and complex that it received two rave reviews in The New York Times. Chester Brown's eloquent, spare artwork stands out in this new paperback edition, tied to the release of the film adaptation co-written and directed by Sook-Yin Lee, Brown's longtime friend. Paying for It offers an entirely unvarnished exploration of sex work through Brown's own life story, showing him as a timid john who rides his bike to his escorts, wonders how to tip so as not to offend, and reads Dan Savage for advice. The book demystifies an experience that is so often sensationalized, revealing a world of online reviews, seemingly willing participants, and clean apartments devoid of clichéd street corners, drugs, or pimps. Now with an introduction by Lee, expanded notes discussing the film adaptation, movie stills and behind the scenes shots, as well as a new cover by Brown and artwork that he created for the production, Paying for It: The Film Edition is an unmissable edition for fans of Brown and film-making alike. Under an engulfing blanket of snow, Craig and Raina fall in love at winter church camp, revealing to one another their struggles with faith and their dreams of escape. Over time though, their personal demons resurface and their relationship falls apart. It's a universal story, and Thompson's vibrant brushstrokes and unique page designs make the familiar heartbreaking all over again. (STK687608)

DUCKS HC

(W/A/CA) Kate Beaton

Before there was Kate Beaton, New York Times-bestselling cartoonist of Hark! A Vagrant, there was Katie Beaton of the Cape Breton Beatons, specifically Mabou. With the singular goal of paying off her student loans, Katie heads out west to take advantage of Alberta's oil rush—part of the long tradition of East Coasters who seek gainful employment elsewhere when they can't find it in the homeland they love so much. Katie encounters the harsh reality of life in the oil sands, where trauma is an everyday occurrence yet is never discussed. (STL234804)

Julie Doucet arrived in comics in the 1990s as a fully formed cartoonist. Her comic book series Dirty Plotte was visionary both for the medium and for storytelling. Her stories are candid, funny, and intimate, plumbing the depths of the female psyche while charting the fragility of the men around her. Dirty Plotte: The Complete Julie Doucet collects the entire comic book series, including the acclaimed My New York Diary, as well as rare comics and previously unpublished material. I NEVER LIKED YOU SC

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown

A harrowing memoir of loss and the struggle to connect, Brown's story is told with a spare poetic elegance. A self-absorbed teenager, Chester Brown strays into the difficult territory of friendship and early love while at home there is a slowly building crisis over his mother's mental health. Emotionally intense, the story veers unsteadily between the extremes of eerie detachment and sudden desperate outbursts of need. A complex and disturbing true story told with a nuanced, queasy visual style that lingers in the mind long after the book has been put away. (STL293339)

MARY WEPT OVER THE FEET OF JESUS HC

(W/A/CA) Chester Brown

The iconoclastic cartoonist of Paying for It returns with a polemical interpretation of the Bible that will be one of the decade's most controversial graphic novels. Mary Wept over the Feet of Jesus is the retelling in comics form of nine biblical stories that present Chester Brown's fascinating and startling thesis about biblical representations of prostitution. Brown weaves a connecting line between Bathsheba, Ruth, Rahab, Tamar, Mary of Bethany, and the Virgin Mother and reassesses the Christian moral code by examining the cultural implications of the Bible's representations of sex work. RIVER AT NIGHT HC

(W/A/CA) Kevin Huizenga

In The River at Night, Kevin Huizenga, author of the acclaimed series Ganges, delves deep into consciousness. What begins as a simple, distracted conversation between husband and wife becomes an exploration of being and the passage of time. It flashes back, first to satirize the dot-com boom of the late 1990s and then to examine the camaraderie of playing first-person shooter video games with work colleagues, to ponder what the passage of time feels like to geologists or productivity gurus. The River at Night is a modern formalist masterpiece as empathetic, inventive, and funny as anything ever written. COME FIND ME: AN AUTUMNAL OFFERING

ANTHOLOGY BY BECKY CLOONAN & FRIENDS

NEW 48-PAGE ONE-SHOT from DSTLRY. In COME FIND ME: AN AUTUMNAL OFFERING, auteur Becky Cloonan (SOMNA, Gotham Academy) curates a coven of the most sinister, trailblazing storytellers in sequential art for a haunting collection destined to become a Halloween tradition.

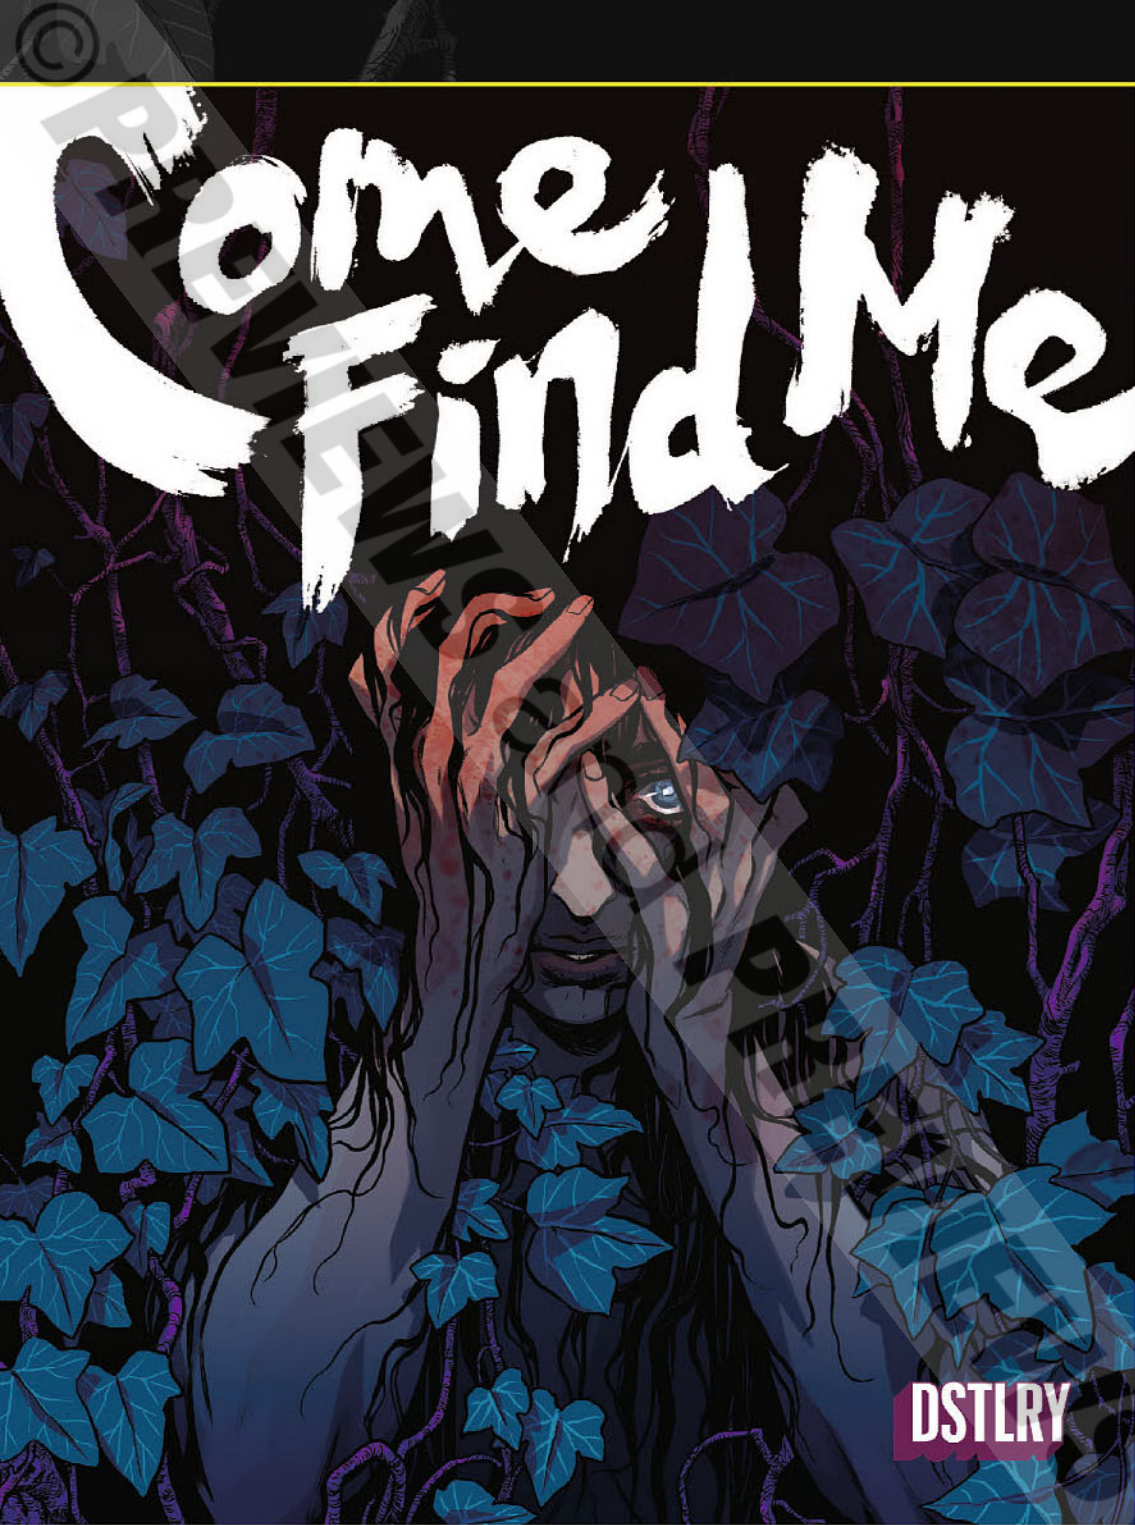

Within these pages, Cloonan unearths a corpse with two coins laid over its decaying eyes. When an opportunistic thief robs the cadaver of its last possessions, a sinister curse erupts, dooming all it touches. Hamletmachine (Lucifer's Garden) presents a chilling tale of a musical demon who makes Faustian pacts with unsuspecting victims, creating minor-key symphonies of human pain. Celine Loup (The Man Who Came Down the Stairs) and two other secret contributors join this insidious bonfire to conjure a modern, all-female descent into folk-horror dread.

COME FIND ME also offers a first look into the world of Cloonan's next DSTLRY series, making this volume a perfect collector's item, hot off the creator's sold-out modern erotic horror masterpiece with Tula Lotay, SOMNA.

An eerie confirmation of the new face of comics horror, COME FIND ME is guaranteed to provide restless nights and racing pulses in a season of bonfires and falling leaves.

For fans of SOMNA, THE WITCH, and TRICK 'R TREAT.

One of the hottest writers in comics, Ram V (The One Hand, The Many Deaths of Laila Starr), teams up with artist extraordinaire Joëlle Jones (Catwoman, Lady Killer) to tell a modern horror story that will leave you guessing until the bitter end!

When ailing Plutocrat Harlan Roderick invites his young protégé Athul Laal to live at Roderick Place in downtown Manhattan, what Athul believes to be his first step into the inner circle of the world's elite soon turns into a living nightmare. Athul discovers that Harlan and his illness are inextricably connected to the high-rise, where secrets and monsters from both Harlan and Athul's own lives lie behind each door.

THROUGH RED WINDOWS is a grim thriller with overtones of gothic horror, loosely inspired by Poe but with a very modern twist. Not for the faint of heart!

(W) John Garvin
(A/CA) Carl Barks

By the time Carl Barks retired in 1966, he had spent more than thirty-five years drawing the Disney Ducks and was ready for something new. But if he was no longer "the old duck man," the professional cartoonist turning out hundreds of comic-book pages a year, then who was he? He began painting full-time and would spend the next five years trying to find an answer. Between 1966 and early 1971, Barks completed over 179 paintings exploring an astonishing number of subjects: churches, landscapes, Soboba Indian churches, Ramona scenes, ancient Native Americans, ranch girls, little girls, and more. 146 of those paintings are reproduced here, many for the first time. These paintings, a record of his search for a new artistic identity, are from the only period of Barks' lifetime of work that hasn't been fully explored. Meticulously researched using Barks' painting ledger, color slides, and other documents from the Barks estate, Carl Barks: Paintings and Drawings 1966-1971 includes more than thirty essays examining important themes, individual paintings, and his evolution as a painter. FEIWEL & FRIENDS

SWING GN

(W/A) Audrey Meeker

Debut author/illustrator Audrey Meeker playfully explores complicated friendships, gender norms, and navigating other people's expectations in this charming middle grade graphic novel. Marcus McCalister wants to fit in. So much so that he's still playing on a soccer team with his childhood friend Ted, despite not liking soccer—or Ted—all that much. Izzy Briggs wants to stand out. Being labeled the "weird kid" for her bold fashion choices is the price an aspiring designer must pay for a life of greatness—but being confident isn't always easy. So when Izzy and Marcus are paired together to perform a swing dance routine for a gym project, it's no surprise that everything goes up in flames, including their grade in the class. Until their gym teacher proposes a deal: If the pair performs the swing routine in the upcoming talent show, they'll receive extra credit and a passing grade. They accept... but Izzy has her own proposal for Marcus: this time, she gets to be the lead. (STL332667) (C: 0-1-0)

THE WORLD OF STRANGE
BEASTS HC

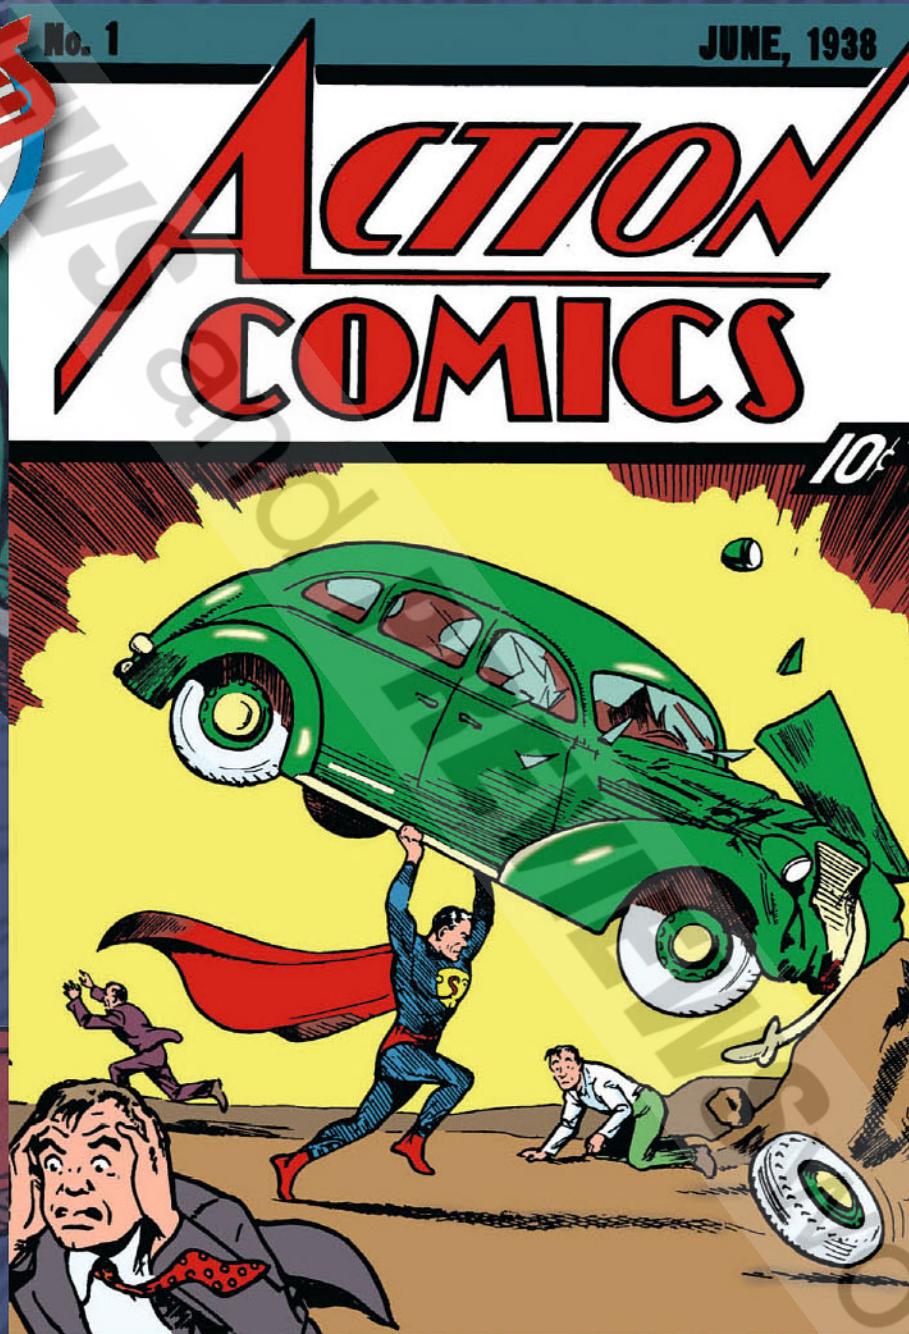

Kaiju (Japanese for "strange creature") is a film genre that emerged in Japan in the early '50s. The movies center on giant monsters battling humans, machines, or other beasts. JESSICA FARM

By Josh Simmons

$29.99 / HC / 304 pgs / BW / 6.5" x 8.5"

Jessica Farm opens with our heroine bounding out of bed on Christmas morning and going about her routine. The banality is soon subverted by a ratcheting sense of dread as we discover that her increasingly nightmarish house is filled with creatures around every corner: some whimsical, some sexual, some despairing, and some malevolent. And the most terrifying creature of all is Jessica's father. Jessica Farm is a career-spanning project for which Simmons has been drawing one page every month for the past 24 years. This is a horror-fantasy-psychodrama that will appeal to fans of Charles Burns, David Cronenberg, and Dario Argento.

NIGHTMARE FACTORY

By John Kenn Mortensen

$29.99 / HC / 104 pgs / BW / 10.25" x 7.25"

Danish horror master John Kenn Mortensen presents 32 poems imagining the nightmares of children, all with sequential illustrations to accompany them. His eerie visions inspire delicious terror all by themselves, fading to black at the edges, like a dreamer unable to shift their focus. Similarly, the short poems each evoke a distinct sense of dread for the sleeping imagination to expand upon; together, the words and pictures conjure a nightmarish world tinged with pitch black humor.

PORTFOLIO: MARK SCHULTZ

(W/A/CA) Mark Schultz

During an impressive period—2005 through 2012—Mark Schultz turned his attention to producing a body of personal works and private commissions. The results, collected in the five Various Drawings volumes, focused on subjects about which Schultz feels most passionate. Among them are characters and tableaux pulled from mythology, science-fiction and pulp adventure, featuring steely warriors and femme fatales—his popular pulpette women included. Portfolio compiles the drawings found in the original five Various Drawings volumes as well as the cover illustrations and special bookplates. Plus, an additional 160 pages of material adds dozens of works not previously collected. Found within are nearly 450 fully rendered drawings executed in brush-and-ink, carbon or graphite pencil. In addition, Schultz shows his process with a wealth of preliminary sketches done for a range of projects, including his Storms at Sea illustrated novella. (STL332725)

SVENGOLIE CELEBRATES 45TH ANNIVERSARY WITH NEW COMIC BOOK SPECIAL

Since his debut in 1979 as "Son of Svengoolie" (since 1994 simply "Svengoolie"), Rich Koz has delighted fans as the horror host of his long-running show. He celebrates his 45th anniversary with this new comic courtesy of Dan DiDio and Gemstone Publishing.

Overstreet: You had appeared in MAD and some one-pagers at DC Comics, but Svengoolie: Lost In Time #1 was your first full comic book. What did you think when you saw the finished product for the first time?

Svengoolie: First of all, I was just amazed by all the various covers – and then, seeing the story we worked on in such a great visual form, it was pretty much a dream come true. I have been a comics fan since childhood, going back to the Carl Barks "Donald Duck" stories, right through to the DC and Marvel superheroes – and being immortalized in this genre that I love was pretty overwhelming.

Overstreet: How surprised were you by the reaction to that first Svengoolie comic?

Svengoolie: It was mind-boggling hearing that the distributor actually sold out of the book, then hearing how comics shops also sold out of it. At every public appearance I do, people bring copies for me to sign and tell me how much they loved the story. I'm very grateful for the extremely positive reaction from our fans.

Overstreet: This new issue is called Svengoolie: 45th Anniversary Boo-Nanza. What's different about this issue?

Svengoolie: In this issue, you not only get a new Sven story, but also visits with our new "Sven Squad" members – Nostalgiaferatoo, Gwengoolie, and the Imp. Our Sven adventure is one of the ideas I had actually had for the first book – in which a cursed doorbell (Sven viewers know that the ringing doorbell is part of our weekly schtick) releases troublesome demons that Sven cannot battle alone – so he recruits some minor-league, somewhat inept monsters as a team to fight them. It's a part of the 45-year anniversary of me being the Svengoolie character – hence the title.

Overstreet: Some great artists contributed to your first issue – Christopher Jones, Art Baltazar, Jill Thompson, and Bill Morrison – and for this new one you have Bill Morrison returning along with Scott Shaw and Joe Staton, and Liam Martin. What have you thought of the collaborators Dan DiDio recruited for you?

Svengoolie: I am really impressed and flattered. To be depicted in the art of such incredible artists – some of whom are actually friends of mine – in their different styles adds to the fun of the book. Just to see some of the great names in comic artists associated with some goofy TV ghoul like me is an awesome compliment!

Overstreet: What else do you have lined up for your 45th anniversary?

Svengoolie: You will see designs by some of the comics artists on upcoming Sven merchandise – the first, by Christopher Jones, is a big hit. There will also be some public appearance celebrations that our fans can get involved with, continuing through the year right into October (traditionally my busiest month, naturally) when MeTV will again christen the whole month as "Svengoolie' Halloween BOO-nanza" – with double feature movies every week and some surprise appearances. I'm honored to have such a celebration on TV, in person, and in print!

GRAND CENTRAL PUBLISHING

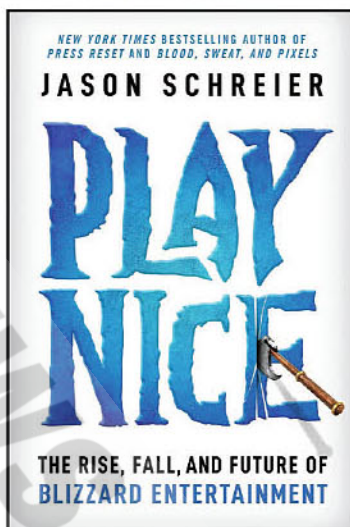

PLAY NICE: THE RISE, FALL, AND FUTURE OF BLIZZARD ENTERTAINMENT HC

(W) Jason Schreier

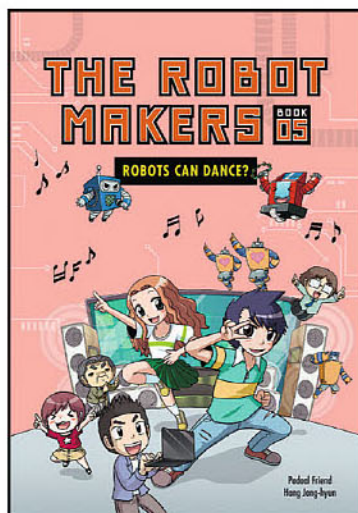

For video game fans, the name Blizzard Entertainment was once synonymous with perfection. The renowned company behind classics like Diablo and World of Warcraft was known to celebrate the joy of gaming over all else. What was once two UCLA students' simple mission — to make games they wanted to play — launched an empire with thousands of employees, millions of fans, and billions of dollars. But when Blizzard cancelled a buzzy project in 2013, it gave Bobby Kotick, the infamous CEO of corporate parent Activision, the excuse he needed to start cracking down on Blizzard's proud autonomy. Glitchy products, PR disasters, and mass layoffs followed, marring the company's once pristine image. Then, in 2021, a staggering sexual misconduct and discrimination lawsuit against the company triggered a widespread reckoning and a shocking $69 billion acquisition. From previously unrevealed stories of Blizzard's early culture, including fist fights and a hotel ban, to the full story of Titan, Blizzard's most high-profile canceled project, this book explores the delight and despair of what it really means to "bleed Blizzard blue." THE HIDDEN LIFE OF TREES: THE GRAPHIC ADAPTATION HC

(W) Peter Wohlleben (A) Benjamin Flao, Fred Bernard
Are trees social beings? For forester Peter Wohlleben, the answer has always been yes, the forest is a social network. Trees live like human families: tree parents live together with their children, support them as they grow, share nutrients with those who are sick and struggling, and even warn each other of impending dangers. This vibrantly illustrated graphic novel follows Peter as its loveable main character, revealing the secret network of the forest and sharing struggles and triumphs from his career protecting trees. Told in Peter's warm, conversational voice, not unlike that of a beloved grandfather chatting fireside, this visually stunning book offers scientific insights and pearls of wisdom gained from Peter's decades of observing forests, including how trees impact weather and climate, how they communicate with each other, and how they interact with fungal networks deep within the ground. It also offers poignant memories from Peter's personal life. (STL332705) (C: 0-1-0)

THE SILVER SNARLING TRUMPET: THE BIRTH OF THE GRATEFUL DEAD HC

(W) Robert Hunter
Discovered at last, the legendary lost manuscript of Grateful Dead co-founder and primary lyricist Robert Hunter, written in the early 1960s—a wry, richly observed, and enlightening remembrance of "the scene" in Palo Alto that gave rise to an incredible partnership of Hunter and Jerry Garcia, and then to the Grateful Dead itself. Follow these truth-seeking souls into the stacks at Kepler's Books, renting instruments at Swain's House of Music, and through the countryside on mind-expanding road trips. Witness impromptu jams, inspired intellectual pranks, and a dialogue that is, by turns, amusing and brilliant and outrageous. Hunter shares his impressions of his first gig with Garcia for a college audi-

I SHALL NEVER FALL IN LOVE GN

(W/A) Hari Conner
The Prince and the Dressmaker goes to Austenland in this joyfully queer, stunningly romantic graphic novel mash-up of Jane Austen novels. George has major problems: they've just inherited the failing family estate and the feelings for their best friend, Eleanor, have become more complicated than ever. Not to mention, if anyone found out they were secretly dressing in men's clothes, George is sure it would be ruinous for the family name. Eleanor has always wanted to do everything "right," including falling in love—but she's never met a boy she was interested in. She'd much rather spend time with her best friend, George, and beloved cousin Charlotte. However, when a new suitor comes to town, she finds her closest friendships threatened, forcing her to rethink what "right" means and confront feelings she never knew she had.

KAHLIL GIBRAN'S THE PROPHET GN

(W) Kahlil Gibran
(A) Zeina Abirached
Kahlil Gibran is the third bestselling poet of all time, behind Shakespeare and Laozi. His masterpiece, The Prophet, is one of the most beloved classics ever to be published. It sold over 9 million copies in the US alone and was translated into over 100 languages. Now his 1923 inspirational book is brought to life as a richly illustrated graphic novel. The night before embarking on a long journey which will take him back to his homeland, the young Almustafa, "the chosen and loved," responds to questions from residents of the city of Orphalese. Among them, he particularly addresses the Prophetess Almitra, who is keen to learn his teachings and wisdom on the big questions of human life: love, friendship, talent, self-awareness, time, good and evil, reason and passion, beauty and pleasure, suffering—everything including death. In this philosophical and spiritual narrative, reproduced here in its full text, Zeina Abirached creates a graphic novel full of light and shadows, exploring the most lyrical images to the most conceptual passages. In 1688, the Reverend John Wise led a little-remembered rebellion against the Dominion of New England, a super-colony comprised of eight American colonies. As the Americans rise to fight for self-government, this pivotal movement serves as a forerunner of the American Revolution nearly 90 years later. Meanwhile, a similar "Glorious Revolution" is taking place across the ocean in Great Britain, leading to a Declaration of Rights that will influence the American Declaration in 1776. (STL334032)

 At seventeen, Soup is at a crossroads, eager to make her mark on the world, yet reluctant to leave the restaurant she calls home—the place where she was found as a baby, the place where she grew up, the place where she learned to cook. It's only when her elven boss snaps at her that she begins to see his pattern of abuse, starting in the kitchen and extending all across town. Something's got to give, and the answer is simple: a cooking competition for the restaurant. If Soup wins, she'll claim the business and protect her village from destructive expansion. But if she loses, she'll have to leave her home and stand by as the food community she loves is razed to the ground. With friends and chosen family rallying around her, Soup has a chance to win. Yet, everyone knows villains don't fight fair, and this restaurateur is not going to give up his throne so easily... (STL332417) (C: 0-1-0)

HALFWAY THERE: A GRAPHIC MEMOIR OF SELF DISCOVERY GN
 (W/A) Christine Mari
 Christine has always felt she is just half: Half American, half Japanese. As a biracial Japanese American who was born in Tokyo but raised in the US, she knows all too well what it's like to be a part of two different worlds but never feeling as though you belong to either. Now on the brink of adulthood, Christine decides it's time to return to the place she once called home. So she sets forth on a year abroad in Tokyo, believing that this is where she truly belongs. After years of feeling like an outsider, now she will finally be complete. Except... Tokyo isn't the answer she thought it would be. Instead of fitting in, Christine finds herself a fish out of water, as being half of two cultures isolates her in ways she'd never imagined. All she can do is try to stay afloat for the rest of the year—still figuring out who she is, what she wants in life, and whether she'll ever truly be more than halfway there. Author-illustrator Christine Mari explores what it means to lose and find yourself in this moving narrative of belonging and home. (STL332937) (C: 0-1-0)

How did an upstart studio conquer the world? In MCU, culture writers Joanna Robinson, Dave Gonzales, and Gavin Edwards draw on more than a hundred interviews with actors, producers, directors, and writers to present the definitive chronicle of Marvel Studios and its sole, ongoing production, the Marvel Cinematic Universe. For all its outward success, the studio was forged by near-constant conflict, from the contentious hiring of Robert Downey Jr. for its 2008 debut, Iron Man, all the way up to the disappointment of Ant-Man and the Wasp: Quantumania and shocking departures of multiple Marvel executives in 2023. Dishy and authoritative, MCU is the first book to tell the Marvel Studios story in full—and an essential, effervescent account of American mass culture. (STL331466) (C: 0-1-1) NOTE: Available only in US, US territories, Mexico, Central and South America.

Your phone reminds you all day long that you were interested in buying those shoes. Your device knows the places where you go, the books you like and your friends' faces. The world's most valuable resource is no longer oil, but data. The more they know about you, the better you can be targeted, and then, monetized. The British businessman Damian Bradfield, co-founder of WeTransfer, and the Spanish comics author David Sanchez build an ironic dystopic world, disturbingly similar to ours, to explore the addictive effects of social media, the stealthy invasion of privacy and the dangers of data misuse. With a wry acidic sense of humor, they blur the boundaries between the online and offline worlds and spin disturbingly recognizable tales about our overconnected society. From writer Jordan Thomas (The Man from Maybe) and artist Daniel Gete (Über) comes a sci-fi/action spectacle that will force you to trust no one . . .

In the year 2142, fertility levels around the globe plummeted, and a black market for illegal clone babies emerged. Millions of parents used their own genetic material to welcome these new children, only realizing the horrific consequences far too late. At some point in their life cycle, three in four of these genetic duplicates transform into psychologically unstable killing machines known as "Dupes." Fortunately, the United Nations of Europe has decided to take an active role in containing the growing threat. Their specialized task force has taken up the unenviable task of hunting Dupes before their violence can spread. To the government, they're the Duplicate Identification and Capture Division. To everyone else, they're the "Skin Police." The worst part of the job? It's always the one you least suspect . . .

LIMITED SERIES		IN STORES OCTOBER 9

The deadly dark fairy tale from masters of folk-horror Cullen Bunn (Harrow County, Invasive) and Christopher Mitten (Hellboy and the B.P.R.D.) writes a frightful new chapter . . .

Sisters Sommer and Winter are shaken and bewildered in the wake of a goblin horde smashing apart their family's vacation cabin and absconding into the night with their parents. But the mysterious, jagged, hulking sword they stumbled on as they fled into the forest offers the young girls surprising strength, agility, and a vicious means to fight back. When they seek shelter with an old couple in the woods, they learn the truth behind the monsters, the fairies, the withering realm known as the Autumn Kingdom, and the deadly sacrifice it requires . . .

THE NIGHT MOTHER VOL. 1 SC

SOFTCOVER	$14.99	88 PAGES	FC	6.75" x 9.5"
IN STORES OCTOBER 9

WRITER JEREMY LAMBERT
ARTIST/COVER ALEXA SHARPE

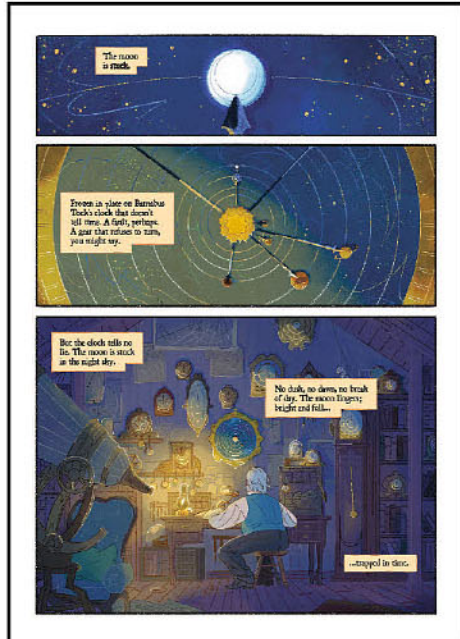

Endless night befalls a sleepy seaside town, leaving it to young Madeline Tock to save her community from a threat known only as the Night Mother . . .

The moon is stuck like a broken clock in the midnight sky, the sun a distant memory. No one in this quiet seaside town can remember how long this unnatural darkness has lasted. No one, that is, except for the curious girl who lives in the graveyard, caring for the dead: twelve-year-old Madeline Tock. In gratitude, the departed whisper their worries to her, sounding just like her overprotective but loving father: beware this endless night and she who causes it.

Because there's someone else who can hear the whispers, too . . . someone whose gown is a map of the cosmos, hair a tangled constellation, eyes like the lights of faraway stars. The Night Mother. Her elemental duty is to gather the souls of the dead in her lantern, then send them to their eternal rest as beautiful moonlight. But when her hunger for power drives her to take souls from the living, Madeline bravely stands up to defend her town and those she loves. Can Madeline help bring back the sun, or will she be lured by the starry promises of this mysterious woman?

Written by Jeremy Lambert (Doom Patrol, Goosebumps) and richly illustrated by Alexa Sharpe (Lumberjanes, Buffy the Vampire Slayer), The Night Mother is a lush gothic tale perfect for readers of all ages who relish in the wonder of the night sky.

From an all-star cast of creative talents comes a volatile, genre-defying homage to hip-hop icon Ol' Dirty Bastard that reimagines New York City's Five Boroughs through the eyes of the maverick MC and Wu-Tang Clan co-founder.

In a fractured New York City, an elemental impact event has caused different versions of the city's most infamous neighborhoods from across the multiverse to converge together into a single reality. Spectral apparitions now haunt the streets of Queens. In the Lower East Side, a rogue artificial intelligence has seized the streets. A hundred blocks north, time travelers are throwing a block party in Harlem. And that's only the beginning. . . . Our guide through this splintered mutation of New York's past, present, and future is none other than Ol' Dirty Bastard himself. Follow him as he leads us through odd, urgent, and powerful tales that cast freedom and oppression, wealth and poverty, love and loss, and even life or death like so many dice in a cosmic game of chance.

Created in partnership with Four Screens and officially authorized by the Ol' Dirty Bastard estate, this taut and turbulent graphic novel features contributions from an epic cast every bit as sprawling as the city within: Troy-Jeffrey Allen (Chuck D's Apocalypse 91: Revolution Never Sleeps), David Brame (MediSIN), Dojo Gubser (Rot8ion), Maan House (Bloodborne), Jason Pierre (CW's In the Dark), Ike Reed & David Gorden (Rampage Jackson's Big Brawl), Regine Sawyer (Dark Nights: Death Metal—The Last 52), Chris Gooding, and Mike JC.

GOLDEN AGE CLASSICS: THE SPIRIT VOLUME 3 HC

(W) Will Eisner (A) Will Eisner, Lou Fine (CA) Will Eisner

The Spirit is a fictional masked crime fighter created by cartoonist Will Eisner, who fights crime with the blessing of the city's police commissioner Dolan, an old friend. Despite the Spirit's origin as detective/criminologist Denny Colt, his real identity was rarely referred to after his first appearance, and for all intents and purposes he was simply "The Spirit." The stories are presented in a wide variety of styles, from straight forward crime drama and noir to lighthearted adventure, from mystery and horror to comedy and love stories, often with hybrid elements that twisted genre and reader expectations. Comic book stories from the 1940s and 1950s may depict some ethnic and racial prejudices that were once commonplace in American culture. More horror and suspense for Classic Horror Comics Volume 8! Starting with this little gem—Front Page Comic Book is a Pre-Code anthology from Harvey that contains the origin and first appearance of the Man in Black. JOHN WILLIE: A BIZARRE LIFE HC

With his iconic art and the groundbreaking content of his Bizarre John Willie is perhaps the person most responsible for introducing fetish style to the mainstream. Illustrated with examples of John's work, this in-depth exploration shines the spotlight on the man behind the drawings of buxom beauties and the photographs of expertly executed erotic bondage, delving into his early life; the chance encounter with a network of high-heel fetishists that incited John's discovery of his community and his calling in the world of erotic art; his relationship with model, wife, and muse Holly Faram; the debut of his groundbreaking Bizarre magazine in 1946 and his career-long struggles against the forces of governmental oversight; and how the murders by so-called "Glamour Girl Killer" Harvey Glatman—who posed as a bondage photographer to lure his victims—helped spur John's eventual disillusionment with the world of fetish art he helped build. Garrett provides a close-up portrait of the artist whose ideas have fed the erotic fantasies of generations of people. (STL332525) (C: 0-1-0)

It is April 1944. Nineteen-year-old Ginette Kolinka arrives at the Auschwitz-Birkenau camp. Her father and little brother are immediately gassed. Ginette is selected as a worker. She survives.

It is October 2020. Ninety-five-year-old Ginette takes advantage of a lull in the COVID-19 epidemic to accompany a group visiting Birkenau one last time. As a farewell, she brings with her a journalist, France Info's Victor Matet, and a comic strip writer, J-D Morvan. From this trip a comic book is born. Ginette tells of her life before the war, how she discovered she was Jewish, how her family fled Paris before she and her father were denounced. O/A THE FANTASTIC WORLD OF FRANK FRAZZETTA HC (NEW PRINTING)

(A/CA) Frank Frazetta

Frank Frazetta has reigned as the undisputed lord of fantasy art for 50 years, his fame only growing in the 10 years since his death. With his paintings now breaking auction records, he's long overdue for this ultimate monograph. Born in 1928, Frazetta claimed to only make art when there was nothing better to do — he preferred playing baseball — yet began his professional career in comics at age 16. Strip work led him to the infamous EC Comics, then to oils for Tarzan and Conan pulp covers. He redefined fantasy heroes as more massive, more menacing, more testosterone-fueled than anything seen before. As counterbalance he created a new breed of women, as nude as censorship allowed, with pixie faces and multiparous bodies: thick thighed, heavy buttocked, breasts cantilevered out to there, yet still, with their soft bellies and hints of cellulite, believably real. Second printing, no edition number on the title page. (STL280716)

Fantasy art, that colorful blend of myth, muscle and sexy maidens, took off in 1923 with the launch of Weird Tales was reinvigorated in the 1960s with The Lord of the Rings, Conan the Barbarian paperbacks with Frank Frazetta covers, and the late '60s emergence of fantasy psychedelia. This monster-sized tome features original paintings, contextualized by preparatory sketches, sculptures, calendars, magazines, and paperback books for an immersive dive into this dynamic, fanciful genre. Complete with fold-outs and tipped-in chapter openers, this collection will reign as the most exquisite and informative guide to this popular subject for years to come. (STL158326)

BIG JIM AND THE WHITE BOY GN

(W) David Walker

(A) Marcus Kwame Anderson

Commonly regarded as one of the great American novels, Mark Twain's Adventures of Huckleberry Finn has captured the hearts and imaginations of readers since 1885. Big Jim and the White Boy is a radical retelling of this American classic, centering the experiences of Jim, an enslaved Black man in search of his kidnapped wife and children, along with his cheeky sidekick, Huckleberry Finn. Jim and Huck's high-stakes adventures take them on an epic voyage across the antebellum South and Midwest, through Confederate war camps and runaway safe houses, into Old West standoffs, and on the road as covert Underground Railroad agents. Intertwined into the story of Jim and Huck are the stories of Jim's descendants in the 1930s, 1980s, and 2020s, making this a multigenerational family epic as well as an adventure story. The remaining 20 cards convey a boon of some sort—a blessing from a higher power or the magic that courses through the natural world. The companion book includes a description of each card's effect and how it impacts the PC who drew it. Within each entry, GMs

THE PACIFIC COMICS COMPANION SC (NEW PRINTING)

Eisner Award Nominee! New Printing! Learn the story of the meteoric rise of the Schanes brothers' California-based imprint Pacific Comics, which published such legends as Jack Kirby, Sergio Aragonés, Steve Ditko, Neal Adams, Mike Grell, Bernie Wrightson, and Dave Stevens. It also focuses on the titles and the amazing array of characters they introduced to an unsuspecting world, including The Rocketeer, Captain Victory, Ms. Mystic, Groo the Wanderer, Starslayer, and many more. TODD MCFARLANE SC

(W/A) Todd McFarlane

Over thirty years after his initial ascent to super stardom, Todd McFarlane (b. 1961) remains one of the most popular and contentious comic artists ever. The interviews compiled in this volume offer a nuanced portrait of McFarlane's polarizing character. Beginning with his earliest days on Spider-Man to the months before the hotly anticipated release of Spawn and ending with his writing ventures decades later, the interviews offer compelling perspectives from the renowned creator. The book offers a glimpse into the comic book world of the early 1990s, a world rampant with variant covers, impossibly exaggerated bodies, and wild speculation about what would be the next comic to explode in value. The volume also includes the momentous public debate between McFarlane and Peter David, former collaborator on The Incredible Hulk, moderated by the late George Pérez at a standing-room-only event at ComicsFest in 1993. (STL331470) (C: 0-1-1)

The night before the concert, however, the group encounters mysterious dreams, putting Mark, Johnny, Taeyong, Jungwoo, and Doyoung in otherworldly scenarios. This ultimately creates a reality-crossing mystery that the five—alongside Taeil, Yuta, Jaehyun, and Haechan—will unite to solve. As NCT 127 grapples with this enigma, they must overcome their fear in both the real world and this new, surreal dreamscape. (STL331638) (C: 0-1-2) HC, 5x7.5, 84pgs, FC.....$21.99

NEIL GAIMAN: NORSE MYTHOLOGY: THE ILLUSTRATED EDITION HC

(W) Neil Gaiman (A) Levi Pinfold

In this dazzling, illustrated edition of the instant classic that has sold more than a million copies, award-winning illustrator Levi Pinfold brings Neil Gaiman's bravura rendition of the Norse gods and their world to life. Bursting off the page with breathtaking, full-color art are tales of fierce battles with giants, storied quests for knowledge, and the gods in Asgard: Odin, the highest of the high, wise, daring, and cunning; Thor, Odin's son, incredibly strong, yet not the wisest of gods; and Loki—son of a giant—blood brother to Odin and a trickster and unsurpassable manipulator. Through Gaiman's epic storytelling and Pinfold's enthralling images, these gods emerge with their fiercely competitive natures, their susceptibility to being duped and to duping others, and their tendency to let passion ignite their actions, breathing vivid life into these long-ago myths. (STL331792) (C: 0-1-0) NOTE: Not available in Australia, New Zealand, and the UK.

CREEPSHOW TV SERIES: CURSED MONKEY PAW

From Paragon Collectibles. Paragon FX Group has proudly partnered with Cartel Entertainment to bring you the first replica from our Creepshow "FX Vault" series. The Cursed Monkey Paw from, "Night Of The Paw," episode 5. Working with the cooperation of Greg Nicotero and KNB's FX team, Paragon's prop makers were given access to a paw from the original molds. This pull also served as our paint master as we moved forward in replicating the prop, right down to its hand-punched hair. The goal with this series is a simple one: To get you as close to owning the original prop as possible. This replica is limited to a one-time edition run of 250 pieces worldwide. (STL324958) Item has been previously solicited in New to Order. (3701) (C: 1-1-2)

DAY OF THE DEAD: THE DEAD WALK NEWSPAPER

From Paragon Collectibles. Prominently featured in the opening credits of Day of the Dead, our "The Dead Walk" newspapers were recreated using scans sourced from surviving copies of the original props. The sharp-eyed reader will notice, while the headlines were specifically created for the scene, the actual text of the newspaper is sourced from medical journals of the time! Identical to the original, many paragraphs are cut off, shortened and sometimes misaligned. As with most props of the time, no thought was given to collectors being able to actually examine these props up-close, much less wanting to add them to our collections! The back of the paper is also purposely left blank. We have kept these hallmarks in our copy to present the most authentic replica of this iconic prop to date! This full-sized replica is suitable for framing and would look amazing autographed by a few of our favorite zombies. Unfolded newspaper measures 23.5" tall by 27.5" wide. (STL324955) Item has been previously solicited in New to Order. (3701) (C: 1-1-2)

PURPLE PLANET: RANDOM ACTS OF VIOLET SC

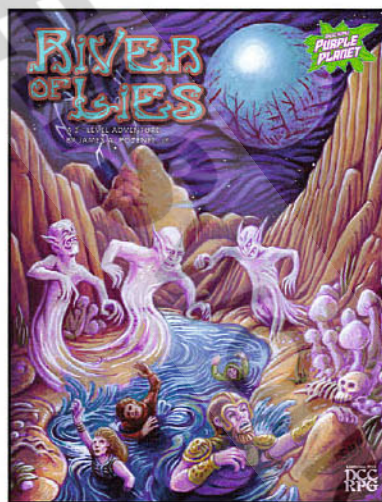

(W) Various

Originally created as part of the 2024 Purple Planet Horde projects, this module is two books in one publication: "Cavern of the Purple-People Eaters" is a first level adventure for PCs finishing their funnel adventures. "What the Hex" is a complete purple planet setting area with low-level adaptations of encounters, creatures, situations, plot hooks and artifacts. Just as violet is a lighter shade of purple, "Random Acts of Violet" content represents risks that are (a little) less than the full force of what the purple planet has to offer. Inside these pages you will find fun and exciting encounters for characters at level 1-2, allowing them to have a chance (albeit a small one) of advancing and gaining experience upon this hostile world.
